

Department of Regional Economics and Administration

invites you to the

19th International Colloquium on Regional Sciences

June 15 – 17, 2016

Hotel Zámek, Čejkovice, Czech Republic

Topics

The Colloquium represents a platform for meeting of experts whose common interest is research of European region issues and above all, the Czech and Slovak ones. Region is perceived as a territorial unit between national state and municipalities, which implies the necessity of specific approaches to dealing with their matters. In this sense the Colloquium is thematically focused on:

- regional development factors in the context of the economic and social cohesion policy,
- role of public administration in the process of creation and implementation of public policy in municipalities and regions,
- evaluation of innovation and knowledge potential of Czech, Slovak and European regions,
- attractiveness of territory, demographic processes, labour market, environment and tourism.

Preliminary programme

- 15/6/2016 arrival of participants, excursion, informal meeting
- 16/6/2016 plenary, dinner, sections, social evening
- 17/6/2016 sections, conclusions of colloquium, dinner

Conference proceedings

Papers will be published in reviewed conference proceedings with ISBN. It will be submitted for CPCI by Thomson Reuters (proceedings published from 2010 to 2015 have been included in it).

Excursion

Sightseeing tour through historical Templar wine cellars: 15/6/2016, 17.00 o'clock (only in Czech).

Conference fee

CZK 2500 (incl. excursion, only in Czech)

CZK 2400 (without excursion)

Accommodation

hotel Zámek: 780 CZK/person/night

hotel Albor: 650 CZK/person/night

(accommodation in twin-bedded or three-bedded rooms)

Registration

March 15, 2016

Papers:

March 15, 2016

Reviews:

March 25, 2016

Revised papers:

April 5, 2016