baufinder.de – Wanted: Software Project Manager in Hamburg Germany

Dear students,

we are 112 years old publisher in building construction area in Germany and we are working on brand new web-based project that helps to architects to find fitting contractors for their projects in Germany. The project is called baufinder.de and is developed in PHP, MySQL, Symfony 2 by development company Proof & Reason located in Brno.

We would like to offer you a 12 month internship program.

You would be responsible for two areas

1. Management of software development baufinder.de
2. Research how to implement social network approaches into baufinder.de

We can provide you a job in one of the most exciting and beautiful cities in Germany with 800€ salary (and even more if we will be satisfied with your work), contribution to public transport and continued employment after finishing an internship.

The only conditions are that you have to be experienced in web-development area (programming, UX) and that you want to learn the German language.

Interested or do you have any further questions? Oliver our project manager is glad to get you know. Please send your application to Lenzendorf@submission.de

With best regards
