

JavaScript Developer - internship

Would you like to get valuable practical experience and have some fun along the way? Apply for an IT internship in Kiwi.com - one of the coolest Czech startups with a globally successful product!

Kiwi.com, formerly known as Skypicker, is an online travel agency with groundbreaking Virtual Interlining technology and a focus on exceptional customer service. Our unique combination algorithm allows our customers to combine flights from non-cooperating airlines onto a single itinerary, often resulting in significant savings.

Would you like to see behind the curtains of our frontend team? Do you know how to do magic with JavaScript and would you like to boost your development skill? Interested? Read on!

We want you to know

- Javascript in the browser and on the server
- Some Javascript framework, such as Backbone, Angular, Ember or React
- HTML5, CSS3, DOM, browser APIs and how the web works
- Some versioning system, preferably Git

What will you work with

- ES6 on latest Node on backend and through Babel and Webpack on frontend.
- Flux architecture based on Redux. Rendering with React. Connected with Immutable.js
- Structured CSS preprocessed with Stylus.
- Slack and Trello for collaboration.

We offer you

- Experience the unique spirit of one of the most promising Czech startup companies
- Very friendly work environment (dogs are welcome, too)
- Free refreshments (coffee, fruits, soft drinks...)

If you like what you are reading, let us know that by sending your CV to Nina Paulisová (nina.paulisova@kiwi.com).
