

The Spirituality of Movement Activities combines two large topics – spirituality and human movement – and the author’s main aim is to investigate the relations between them. The editor’s main aim has been to display spirituality as a complex and multi-dimensional phenomenon, and so the book contains not just philosophical, but also religious, psychological and sociological approaches.