Text effective as of 1 September 2021, approved by the AS LF MU on 18 May 2021 and AS MU on 7 June 2021

The organisational structure of the Faculty of Medicine of Masaryk University (hereinafter referred to as "Faculty" or "LF MU") is an internal regulation of the LF MU and is based on Article 26 of the LF MU Statutes.

Article 1

Internal organisation of the faculty

- (1) The Faculty is divided into:
  - Constitutions
  - clinics
  - Departments
  - other workplaces for educational, scientific, research and development activities
  - purpose-built facilities
  - administrative workplace
- (2) Institutes are workplaces for educational, scientific, research and development activities in theoretical and preclinical fields.
- (3) Clinics are workplaces for educational, scientific, research and development activities in medical and other health fields, carried out mainly in inpatient facilities of teaching hospitals and other specialized hospitals directly managed by the Ministry of Health. Special legislation applies to the establishment of clinics and the appointment of their heads (heads). For the purposes of the internal regulations of the LF MU, joint workplaces with teaching hospitals designated as institutes are considered clinics according to this provision.
- (4) Departments are workplaces for educational, scientific, research and development activities. They provide teaching of non-medical study programmes.
- (5) Other departments for educational, scientific, research and development activities are established mainly for the coordination and solution of multidisciplinary professional issues and may also participate in teaching.
- (6) Purpose-built facilities are workplaces supporting the educational, scientific, research and development activities of the faculty.
- (7) Administrative workplaces are workplaces for the provision of administrative activities of the Faculty and for the provision of its operation.
- (8) The establishment, merger and dissolution of the above-mentioned departments is decided upon the proposal of the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine. Clinics are established according to special legal regulations. When submitting proposals, the dean is obliged to inform the AS of the faculty of the opinion of the meeting of vice-deans and the Scientific Council of the faculty. In the case of administrative departments and special-purpose departments, only the opinion of the meeting of the Vice-Deans.

- (9) An overview of institutes, clinics, departments and other workplaces for educational, research and development activities is published on the LF MU website.
