

Dear participant,

my name is Aneta Gronová, I am student of Masaryk University and I am conducting a study called Maladaptive daydreaming and mental imagery.

The purpose of this study is to examine the relationship between maladaptive daydreaming and vividness of visual and movement imagination. By participating, you might help the scientific understanding of maladaptive daydreaming and uncovering how imagination of maladaptive daydreamers works. There are no risks to participating in this study.

Participation involves filling out three questionnaires and some necessary basic information about yourself. This data will be used only for purposes of the study, and as it is confidential, it will be kept in a locked file. The time required for completing this study is approximately twenty five minutes.

Your participation in this study is completely voluntary. There is no penalty for not participating. You may also refuse to answer any of the questions. You have the right to withdraw from the study at any time without consequence.

By clicking on „Continue“ you confirm that you have read the procedure described above and voluntarily agree to participate in the procedure.
