

1. Culture and Communication

The goal of the first topic is to see and understand culture as an intrinsic part of any communication. The source 1 provides various views and definitions of culture. The following source 2 brings a specific interpretation of culture as implicit theories of the game being played in our societies.

The source 3 focuses on the relation between culture and communication. The source 4 explains how our culture influences the ways we construct and interpret messages. The last source is a test that will help you check your understanding of the topic.