

1 Find mistakes in the sentences. Some sentences are correct.

- a) Helen never sleeps. Neither does Claire.
- b) We don't have much time, do we?
- c) Who are you waiting for?
- d) Who has been invited?
- e) Peter rarely goes to bed before ten, does he?
- f) I have been to Portugal. So has he.
- g) I have two books. I find neither of the books interesting.
- h) I have a few good friends. I think it's enough.
- i) Susan doesn't have much information, does she?
- j) Paul has a degree in informatics, doesn't he?

2 Ask about the underlined part of a sentence.

- a) The boss has fired twenty employees.
Who has fired...
- b) The boss has fired twenty employees.
How many employees has the boss fired?
- c) The boss has fired twenty employees.
Who has the boss fired?
- d) The company was founded in 2002.
What was founded
- e) The company was founded in 2002. Could you tell me... when the company was founded?
- f) He can't find Heather's pen.
Whose pen can't he find?
- g) He can't find Heather's pen. Could you tell me whose pen he can't find?

- h) Jane goes swimming with Paula every day.
How often does Jane go swimming with Paula?
- i) Jane goes swimming with Paula every day.
Who goes swimming with Paula every day?
- j) Jane goes swimming with Paula every day.
Who does Jane go swimming every day with?

3 Complete with few, a few, little, a little, many, much, either, neither, a, the, none, no, any or write -. Sometimes more answers can be correct.

- a) I am going to two conferences. I don't think either will be particularly interesting.
- b) The conference I talked about the other day was such a waste of time.
- c) I don't have any/many friends. Sometimes I feel lonely.
- d) You can find all the information on a/the noticeboard in the hallway on the third floor.
- e) How much money did you bring? A little/little/none.
- f) The furniture you ordered ..... last week will arrive shortly.
- g) I have a company car at my disposal. However, the tyres need changing.
- h) I've never had an accident in my life.
- i) Where is the money I lent you last week? I don't have much/any left myself.
- j) A: How many files have you checked? B None/(A) few. Yesterday I was rather busy.