Astonishingly, she manages (4) (combine) her PhD at the university with international concerts and recitals, numerous public appearances and interviews. She evidently thrives on the workload, buzzing around the place with an industrious enthusiasm that leaves us all breathless. Her fame as a performer means (5) (make) regular appearances at high profile events. Last month, for example, she agreed (6) (appear) in a series of recitals organised by Coca-Cola. This involved (7) (travel) to far-flung places like Seoul, Oslo and Montevideo on successive days, a schedule which would have caused any normal person to wilt. I can't stand (8) (do) nothing,' she says. I happen (9) (have) a particular talent, and it would be wasteful not (10) (exploit) it to the full.'

I encouraged her (11) (tell) me about her upbringing, but she was rather reticent to sing her own praises. I did, however, succeed in persuading her (12) (confess) to a secret desire. 'If I hadn't been a musician, I would have loved to train (13) (become) a martial arts expert,' she says. Certainly, she would have had the discipline, but I couldn't imagine someone so physically frail actually (14) (stand) there hitting someone. But it was an interesting revelation, and one that I was (15) (learn) more about during my day with her.
