Tasks summary

- doing a personality test
 - This task was very useful to me. I really appreciate it. I have never done this kind of test. I think that result of this test really fits to my personality. I'm really Rational Field Marshal
- finding area of being useful
 - This task was the most difficult. I really appreciate that we had in Honza in team. His creativity was really useful.
- describing area by the means of BMC
 - I filled Business Model Canvas. I must admit, that BMC is very useful and really helps to describe your business in really intelligible simple way. BMC became my favorite business management tool.
- doing a financial analysis
 - This task was very difficult, but very well prepared templates help us to estimate financial development of our business. I think that we would need more experiences to have our analysis more precise.

Other summary

This course was very useful and well prepared. I really appreciate very well prepared presentations.

First I was worried about being in team with people I did not know, but we get to know very fast. It was very interesting experience. My contribution was executive. I did Business Model Canvas, finalized Financial Analysis etc...

I'm very busy this semester so I had big problems to find a time to contribute to our tasks. Yes we did not catch all deadlines, but Andrej was very good manager and he organized us well despite the lack of time.
