

PV204 Security Technologies

Overview of the subject

Petr Švenda & Zdeněk Říha & Vít Bukač &
Václav Lorenc & Milan Brož

Organization

- Lectures + seminars + assignments + project + exam
- Assignments
 - 6 homework assignments total
 - individual work of each student
 - lab A403 available to students
- Project
 - Team work
 - Description in second week, smartcard + app on PC
- Exam
 - Written exam, open questions

Grading

- Credits
 - 2+2+2 credits, plus 2 for the final exams
- Points
 - Homework (30) – min 15 required
 - Project (20) – min 10 required
 - Written exam (50)
- Grading
 - A \geq 90% of maximum number of points 100 (max)
 - B \geq 80% of maximum number of points 90
 - C \geq 70% of maximum number of points 80
 - D \geq 60% of maximum number of points 70
 - E \geq 50% of maximum number of points 60
 - F < 50% of maximum number of points 50

Attendance

- Lectures
 - Attendance not obligatory, but highly recommended
 - Not recorded (small lecture room without video facilities)
- Seminars
 - Attendance obligatory
 - Absences must be excused at the department of study affairs
 - 2 absences are ok
- Assignments and projects
 - Done during students free time (e.g. at the dormitory)
 - Access to network lab and CROCS lab is possible
 - Some assignments indeed require access to the network lab

Course resources

- Lectures (PDF) available in IS
 - IS = Information System of the Masaryk University
- Assignments (what to do) available in IS
 - Submissions done also via IS
- Additional tutorials/papers/materials from time to time will also be provided in IS
 - To better understand the issues discussed
- Recommended literatures
 - To learn more ...

Plagiarism

- Homeworks
 - Must be worked out independently by each student
- Projects
 - Must be worked out by a team of 3 students
 - Every team member must show his/her contribution (description of workload distribution, git commits)
- Plagiarism, cut&paste, etc. is not tolerated
 - Plagiarism is use of somebody else words/programs or ideas without proper citation
 - IS helps to recognize plagiarism
 - If plagiarism is detected student is assigned -5 points
 - In more serious cases the Disciplinary committee of the faculty will decide