

Look at the following sentences and rewrite them with a partner according to the instructions.

1) Fix grammar.

Chrome uses about 300 million Internet users, making it the most popular browser in the world.

.....

.....

2) Rephrase without using “there” at the beginning of the sentence.

There exist several testing standards, which differ by appropriate field and usage.

.....

.....

3) Improve the transition between the two clauses.

Yoga is accessible to everyone, it can be easily adjusted to elderly people as well as to handicapped people.

.....

.....

4) Change the sentence so that the transition between the two clauses works. Can you make the sentence work without adding a single word?

The first difference between high school and university is the difficulty level, in high school the courses include more basic and general information than university.

.....

.....

5) Change the beginning to emphasize “useful.” Are there other improvements you would like to make?

Useful but not mandatory is the step of commissioning a review, which represents the introduction of reviewed topic.

.....

.....

6) Rephrase without using “has to be done” so that the sentence is more direct.

After collecting all articles found by search strings, filtering of relevant literature for questions has to be done.

.....

.....

7) Fix the linking expressions and the ending.

Although the climate change is a serious global issue, but the U.S. – which is the largest state actor responsible of this change – is impacted in many aspects

.....

.....