

Expand your opportunities with Red Hat's Internship Program

At Red Hat, we look for creative and passionate students who are ready to learn, grow and make an impact with an innovative and dynamic company. We have an open and collaborative culture that's based on meritocracy - we let the best ideas win, no matter who contributes.

Freedom and courage are two of our core values, which is why our interns need to be comfortable taking risks and exploring the unknown. But being a Red Hatter isn't just about boldness; it's also about demonstrating commitment and being held accountable. An internship at Red Hat provides training, development and opportunities to unlock your potential as you begin your career.

Why choose an internship at Red Hat

Red Hat offers students in Czech Republic a unique opportunity to gain real-life work experience. Each student is partnered with a Red Hat Associate, and together, they focus on areas in which the student wants to learn and develop. Interns become an important part of a team, helping develop Red Hat projects and products, such as Red Hat® Enterprise Linux®, Middleware, Ansible® OpenShift®, and much more.

The internship starts with a one-year contract with the possibility to extend, or even become a full-time associate. We offer both technical and non-technical roles that provide great flexibility so you can have a rewarding work experience while also prioritizing your studies.

Internship details

- Paid positions for 12 months with possible extension
- Flexible working hours, on average 20 hours/week
- Start dates on February 1st and July 1st
- Openings in Software Engineering, Quality Engineering, IT, People team and Facilities
- 100+ students hired for internship roles every year
- Work on real projects within our teams, with a peer who provides guidance and support
- Networking and social events, as well as personal and professional development opportunities

How to apply

The hiring process opens twice a year - in April and October. Job adverts will be placed on our career site. Students are encouraged to sign up for our talent community (or scan the QR) to get notified when we open new positions.

Any questions? Contact Sara Adamcova (sadamcov@redhat.com).

Meet Red Hat interns

We are proud to have so many talented millennial Red Hatters who make us a great place to work.

From the beginning of my internship at Red Hat, I was involved in the development of a key project, even though I was new. Thanks to the support of my team, I got up to speed very quickly and was encouraged to contribute my own ideas. My team and the Red Hat community was open to my perspectives, and helped guide me through the project as I learned.

Viliam

AI DevSecOps Intern
Czech Republic

Open unlocks
the world's potential.