aka

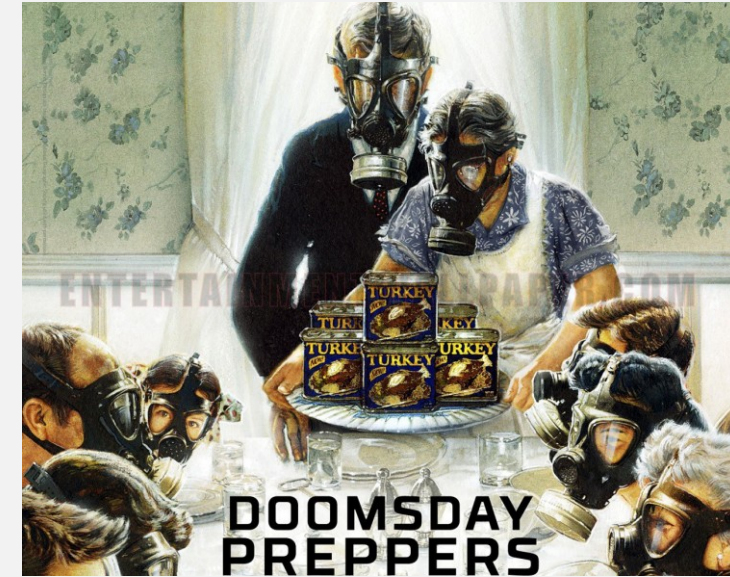

how not to be forced to kill and eat your neighbour

PREPPERS

- People who are constantly preparing for the emergencies, natural disasters, impending societal collapse due to pandemics, a shortage of resources, economic downfall, or an unexplained apocalyptic event
- Origins in 1940s and 1950s with civil defense programs in USA promoting protection against nuclear weapons
- From avoiding inconvenience, through being prepared for emergencies or war to surviving zombie apocalypse
 - Universal set of skills and supplies for most situations
- Preppers are often viewed as insane, paranoid, conspiracy theorists or pessimists towards society/humanity
- Can be considered subculture

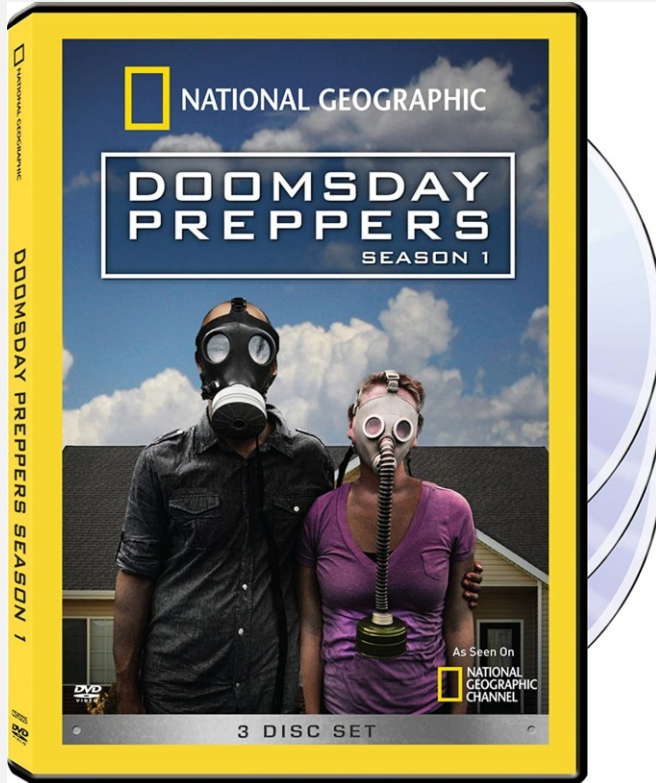

PREPER DICTIONARY

- BIB (Bug in Bag)
- BOB (Bug out Bag)
- BOL (Bug out Location)
- Golden Horde
- G.O.O.D (Get Out of Dodge)
- TEOTWAWKI (The End of the World as We Know It)
- WTSHTF (When the Shit Hits the Fan)

PREPPERS VS SURVIVALISTS

- Prepping – learn how to effectively survive disasters and adapt to long-term change within a local area
 - Need of food, water and safety as a number one priority
- Survivalism – usually understood as a more hardcore form of prepping, including white supremacism, antigovernment groups, apocalyptic cults and wide range of militias (Barlet 2004; Lamy 1992; Weeber and Rodeheaver 2003)
 - Often depicted as shaved-headed youths, marching about with swastikas, US flags or other symbols. Also depicted with weapons, carrying paramilitary training scenarios or preaching that the „End is coming“ (Lamy 1992)
 - Focus on dystopian scenarios following some cataclismating event (social/political/economic collapse) where they will need to defend themselves and their families from those that they perceive as a threat

MEDIA DEPICTION OF PREPPERS

REALITY

- Normal people with emergency supplies vs. doomsday survivalists living in wilderness
- Different countries = different threats = different prepper cultures
- TLDR: Most preppers are just regular people who plan ahead and prepare for short-term emergencies

VS

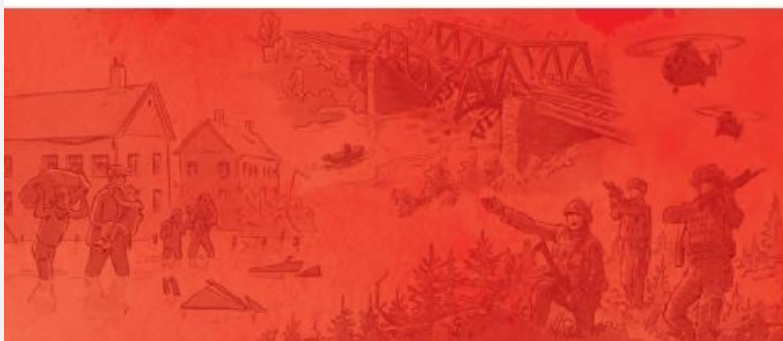

YOUR GOVERNMENT PROBABLY WANTS YOU TO PREPP!

- Prepping is not limited to individuals or communities but it is recommended and endorsed by numerous governments around the world
- The more people are prepared, the less people might die/require assistance
- Manuals represent different issues, threats and recommendations specific to individual countries
- Governments themselves are also prepping - stockpiles of strategic resources and materials (oil, food, medical materials) – often classified
 - USA - National Strategic Stockpile
 - Czech Republic - The Administration of State Material Reserves
 - Finland - National Emergency Supply Agency
- As COVID-19 showed - many countries were unprapered for the situation, most notably USA
 - Numerous budget cuts in emergency response – hurricane Maria, COVID-19

Coronavirus made us all "preppers." And people who've been doing it for years aren't saying "we told you so."

Fortitude Ranch offers members protected space in underground bunkers like this one, under construction at an undisclosed location. There are at least two "prepper" country clubs in Colorado owned by Fortitude. (Provided by Drew Miller)

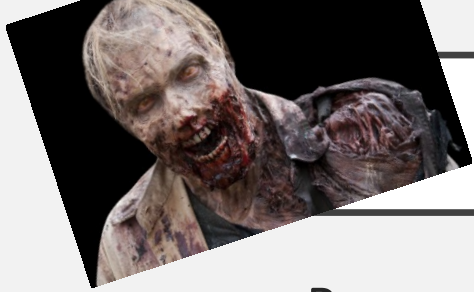

Fortitude Ranch, a chain of affordable prepper country clubs with two locations the Colorado mountains, sold out of space once the gravity of COVID-19 spread.

COVID-19 AND PREPPING

- Stigma of prepping – preppers as paranoid hoarders
- Failure of governments to provide leadership and supplies
- More preppers in the future + more tolerant views on prepping in general population
 - Especially in Europe

PREPPING FOR ECONOMIC COLLAPSE: ARGENTINA 1998

- 1998-2002 – Argentine great depression
- Widespread unemployment, riots, fall of the government, default on the country's foreign debt
- Over 50 % of Argentinians lived below the official poverty and basic needs of 25 % of Argentinians were unmet, violent crime became a rampant problem
- Rapid inflation = prices of some food and other articles doubled overnight
- How can prepping help to come and mitigate effects of financial crisis on individual?
 - Food stockpiles
 - Comes in handy when prices of food skyrocket
 - In case of riots and high crime rates there is no need to go to the shop
 - Anything else is bonus – weapon, car, gas, wood, skills...

HOW TO PREPP REASONABLY?

- Preparedness saves lives and self-sufficiency beats dependency
 - Do not count on emergency services (firefighters, ambulances, police) or emergency public services (tanks with water) to be available in time
- Basic prepping for short-term emergencies (72 hours) is relatively cheap
- How to be prepared?
 - Emergency supplies for short-term emergencies (food and water) for at least 72 hours
 - General emergency supplies (fire extinguisher, proper first aid kit, radio)
 - „Grab bag“ with basic necessities for sudden evacuation (food, water, blanket, radio, first aid kit, flashlight)
 - Car emergency kit (proper first aid kit, jumper cables, rope, water, food, extra clothing, blanket)
- Prepping supplies can be very useful during individual financial difficulties (unemployment etc.)
