2016 General Election

New Government

- Decline of SMER-SD excluded the scenario of a one-party government
- Two scenarios:
 - SMER-SD + several partners
 - Grand coalition without SMER-SD
- Final outcome:
 - SMER-SD, SNS, Most-Hid, Network
 - Fico as the PM for the third time
 - Network collapsed shortly after that and part of its MPs went to Most
- “The barrier against extremism”

The Breaking Point in February 2018

- Murder of investigative journalist J. Kuciak and his fiancée M. Kušnírová at their home
- Tremendous consequences:
 - Public impact comparable to November 1989
 - Mass demonstrations around the whole country
 - Shifts in public opinions
 - Personal earthquake in the government
 - Negative effect primarily on SMER-SD

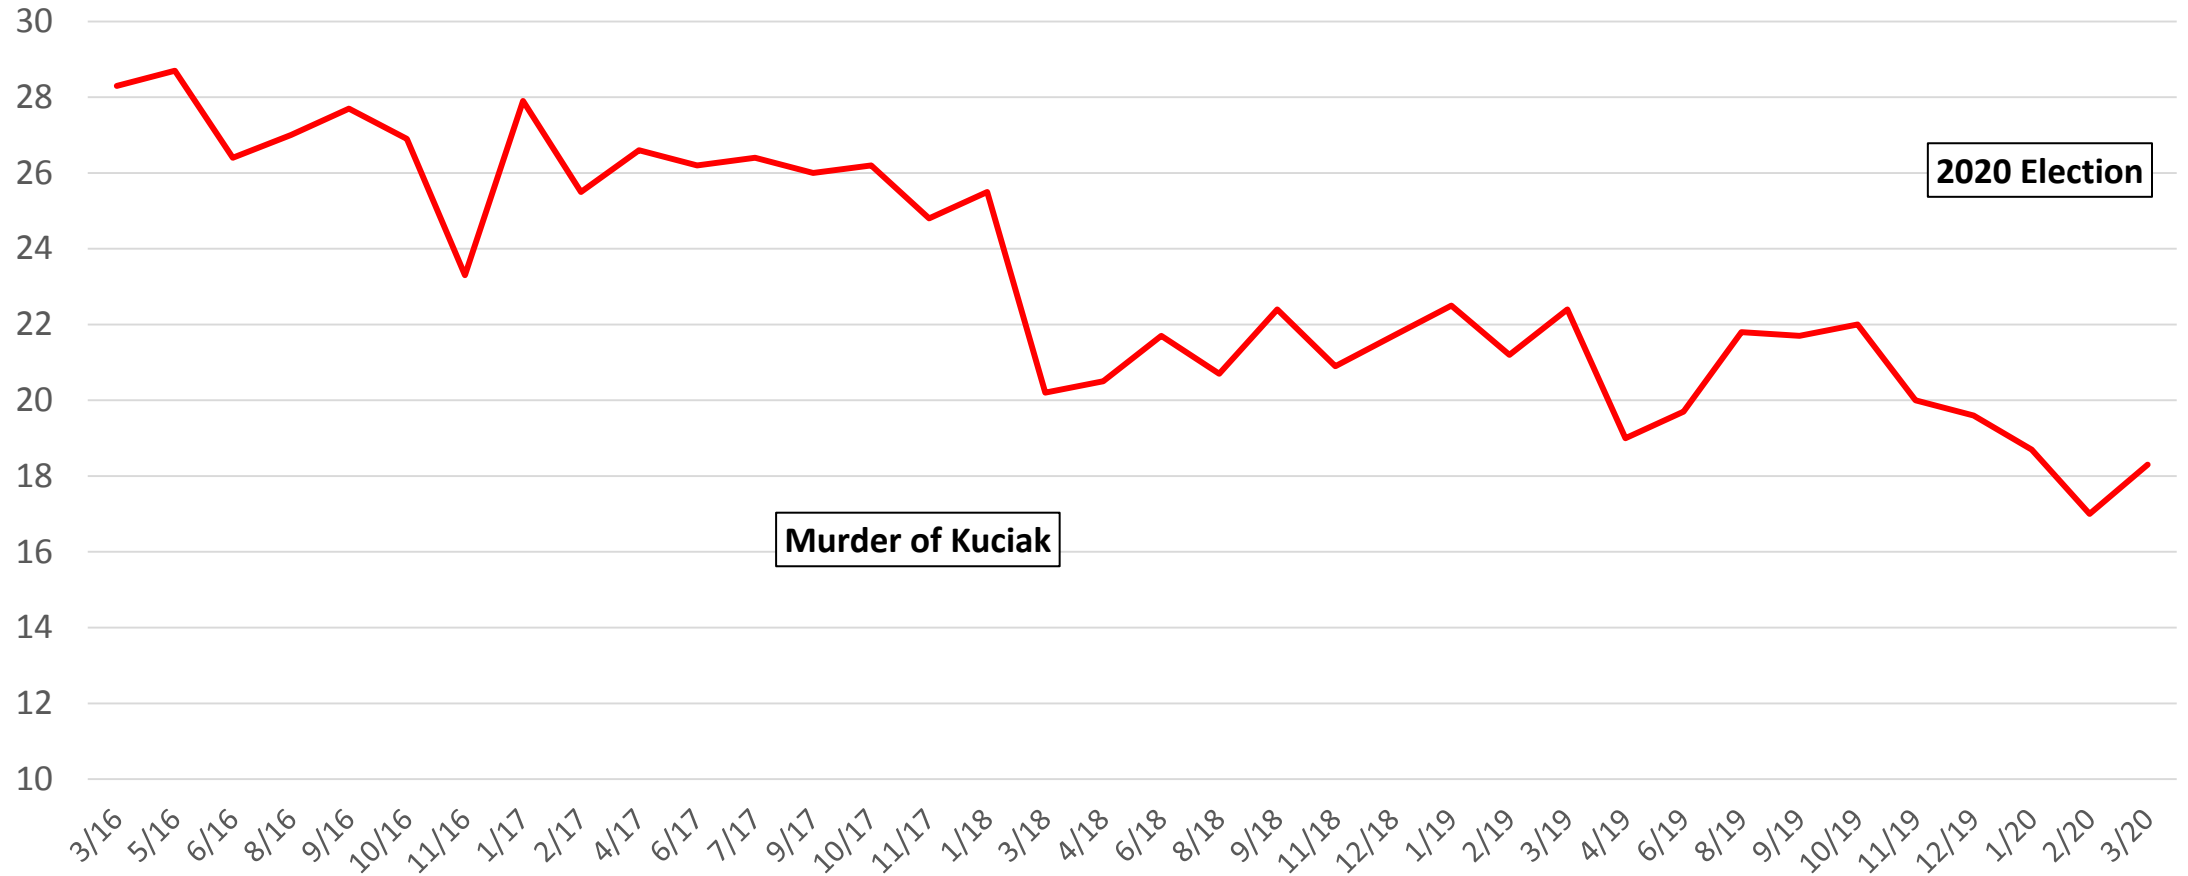

Personal Consequences

- Various prominent officials forced to step down
 - PM Fico
 - Minister of Interior Kaliňák
 - President of the Slovak Police Force Gašpar
- Peter Pellegrini as the new PM (SMER-SD)
 - Fico remained as SMER-SD leader
- The General Attorney promised to unleash “hell”

Support of SMER-SD

Investigation (1)

- The Italian scenario

Investigation (2)

- The Kočner network scenario
- Murder as revenge
- Network of judges granting him protection
- Threema

New parties in the opposition

- Progressive Slovakia (centre-left and liberal)
- Together – Civic Democracy (centre-right)

- Successful cooperation in 2018 local and 2019 EP and presidential election

- For the People:
 - Established by Andrej Kiska after finishing his mandate
 - More conservative leaning

Integration Attempts

- “Democratic” opposition:
 - PS-Together, For the People, OLaNO, SaS, KDH
 - Separate line of KDH
 - For the People only accepted a cooperation of all parties or nothing
 - as a result, all parties continued alone (and PS-Together as a coalition)
- „If there are too many parties just above the threshold, it is naive to expect that voters will coordinate their behavior to save all of them”

Further Integration Attempts

- Hungarian parties:
 - Both Most-Hid and SMK (now as MKO-MKS) below the threshold
 - Too many Hungarian parties for a single Hungarian minority
 - Initial hope ended without any result
- Far right and protest parties:
 - LSNS and the newly emerged Homeland
 - Kotleba and Harabin scored 530,000 votes in 2019 presidential election (roughly $\frac{1}{4}$ of all votes)
 - Discussions on integration failed

Main Topics in the Campaign

- The 2018 murder
 - Second anniversary only a few days before the election
- Corruption, scandals of SMER-SD, linkages to Kočner
- Rise of LSNS and extremism in general
- Unsuccessful attempt to bring back “old” topics, e.g. immigrants

ZODPOVEDNÁ
ZMENA

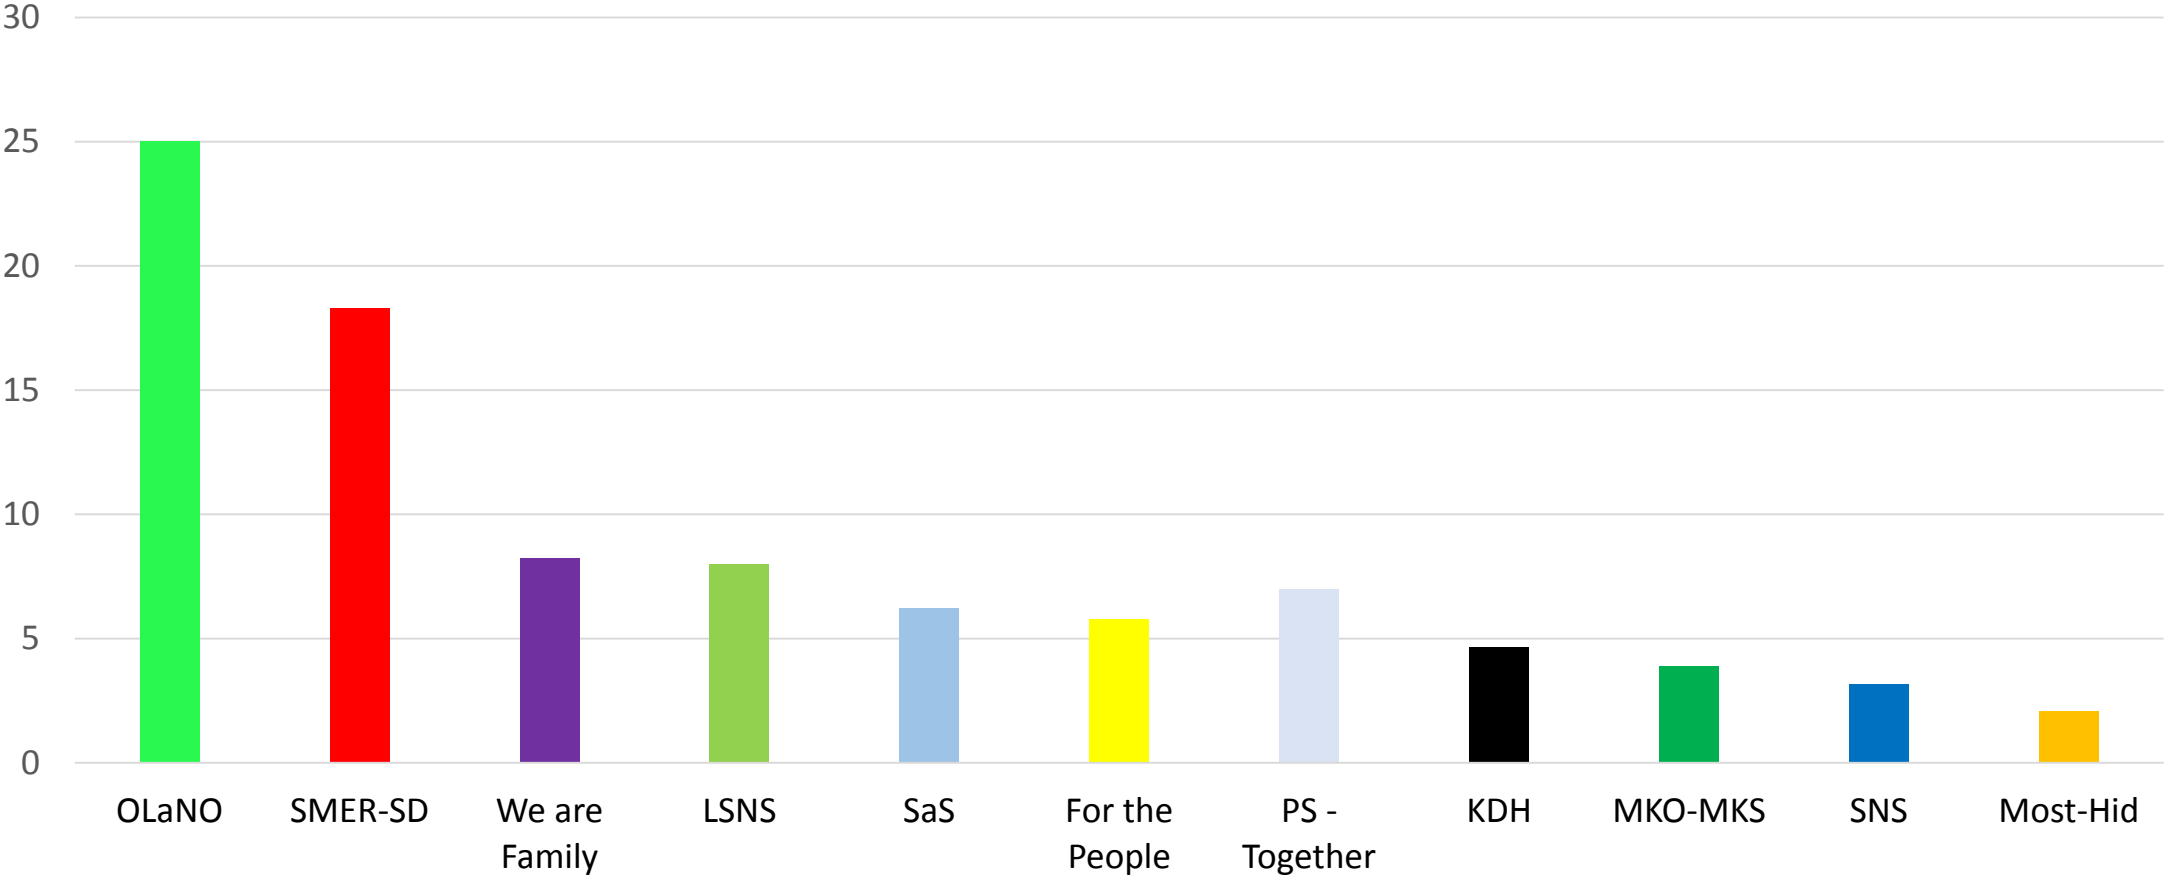

Expert Evaluation of the Campaign (N = 56)

Few Days Before the Election

- SMER and SNS announced vast social benefits before the election
 - 13th pension
 - Doubling of child allowances
 - Abolishment of highway tolls
- The parliament passed only the pensions
 - SMER-SD, SNS, LSNS, We are Family

2020 general election

New Government

- OLaNO, We are Family, SaS, For the People
- PM Matovič
- 95 MPs (90 required to amend the Constitution)
- Question of stability and survival

Potential clashes

- OLaNO:
 - Largest governing party, 53 MPs
 - Previous record of low stability
- Anti-corrupt voter's attitudes vs. Christian activists among MPs
- Conservatives vs. liberals in the government
- Two minor parties (For the People and SaS) weakened
 - Andrej Kiska retired from his party and politics

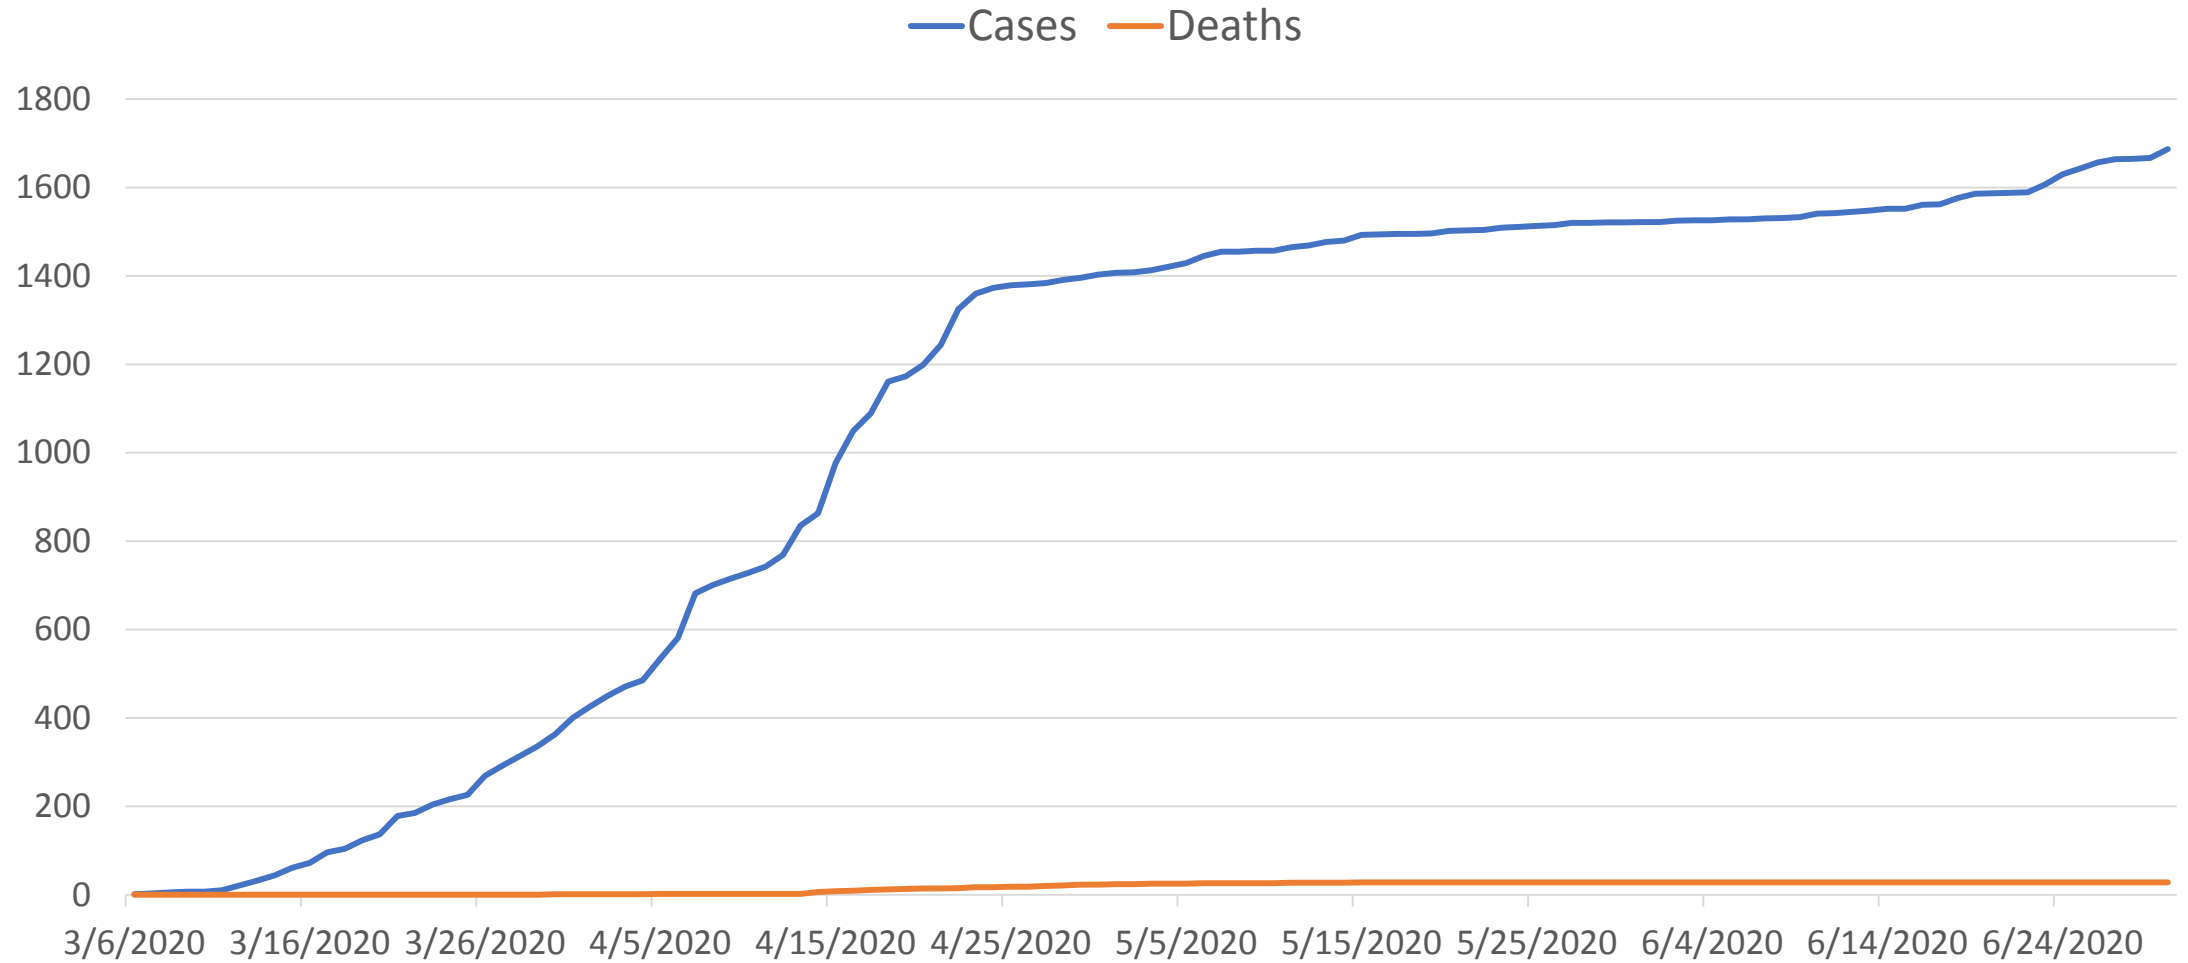

Anti-corrupt activities

- “Mani pulite” in a Slovak way
- Numerous arrests of prominent figures
 - Judges, people in business, attorneys, police leadership
 - Many already confessed they had committed crimes
- Uncovering a huge corruption network allegedly linked to previous governing parties
- Unleashed fantasy of police name generators:
 - Storm, Tempest, Judas, Babylon, Purgatory, God Mills...

COVID-19

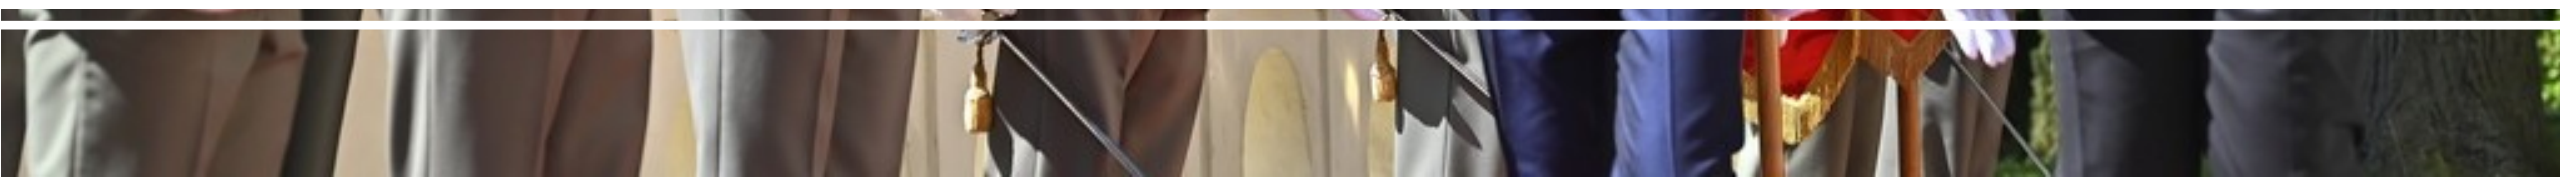

- Spread of pandemic during the first days of the new government
 - First positive test on March 6
- Quick response similarly to other European countries
 - Borders, lockdown, closure of schools, facemasks...
- Spring to summer 2020:
 - Great success in terms of numbers:
 - Low number of cases
 - Extremely low numbers of casualties
- Before summer – weakening of adopted anti-pandemic restrictions

1st Wave of COVID-19

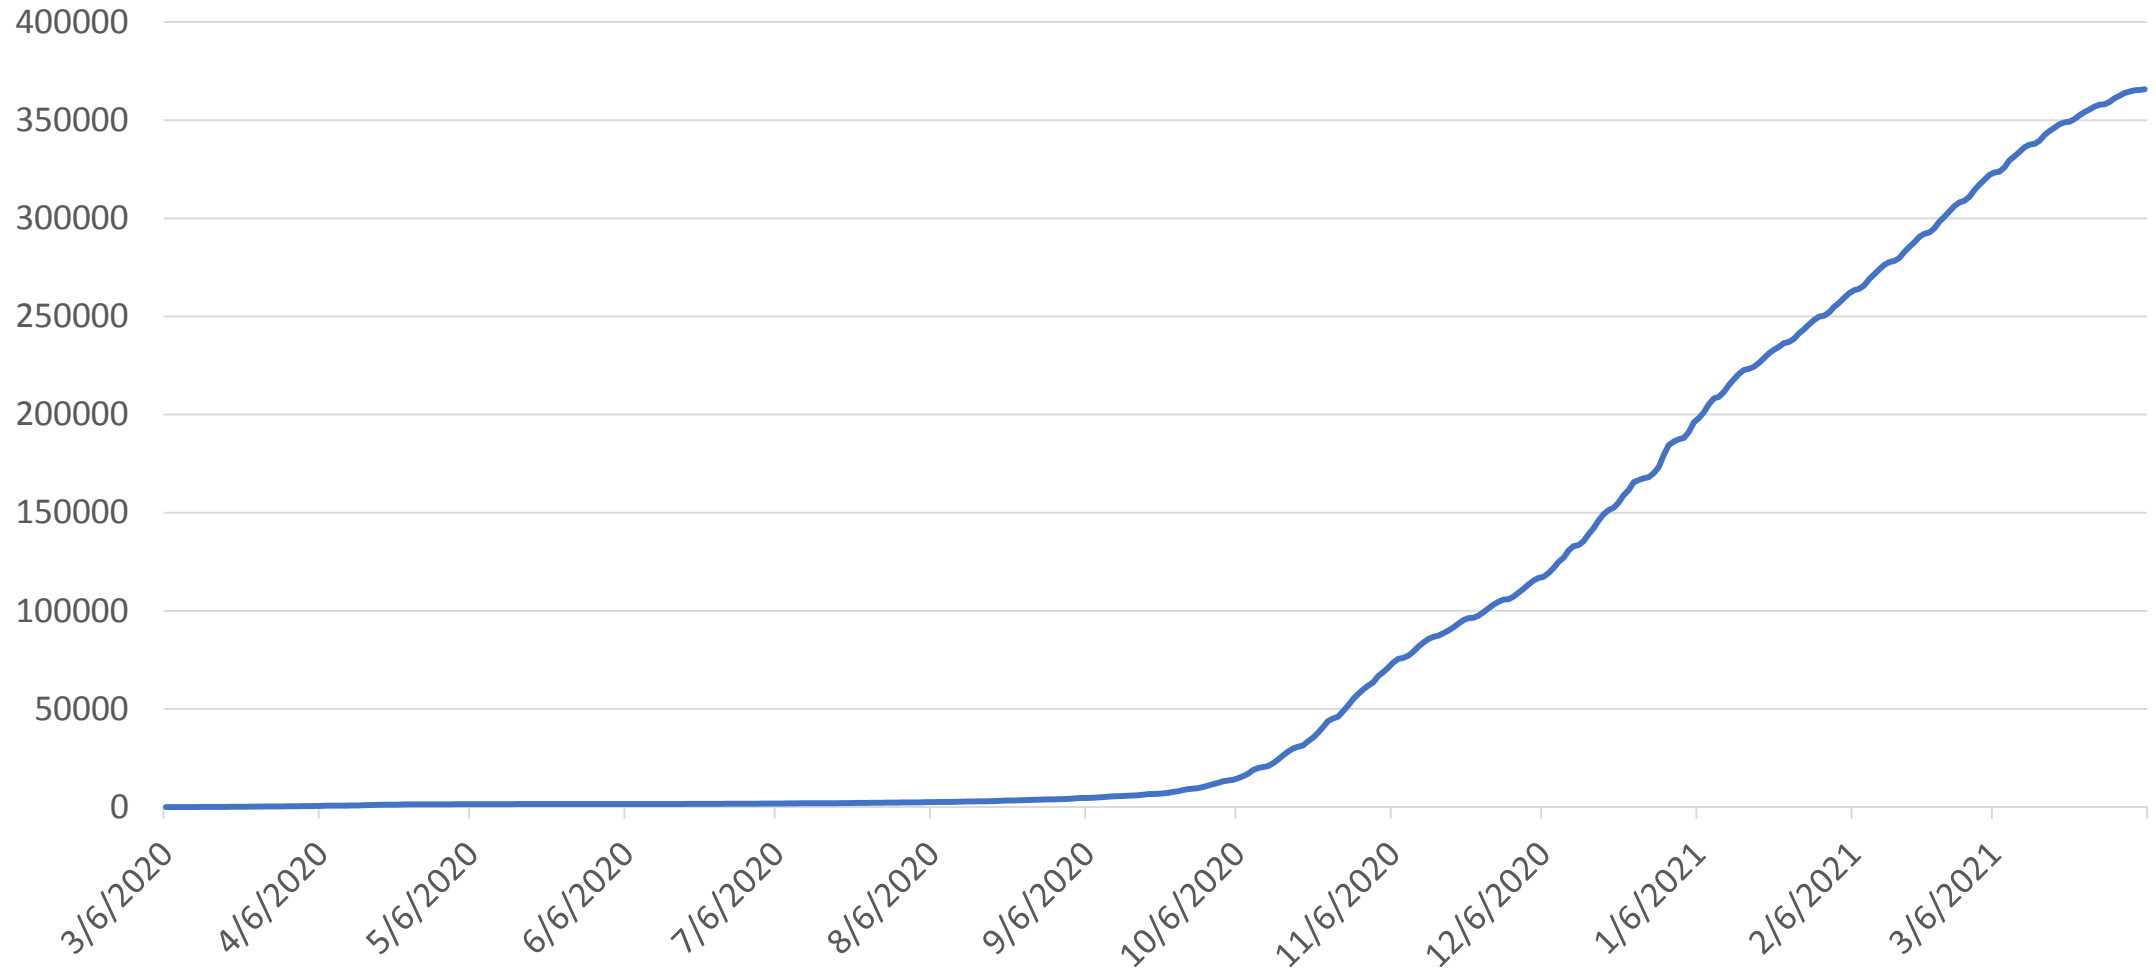

6 June 2020 – Borders re-opening

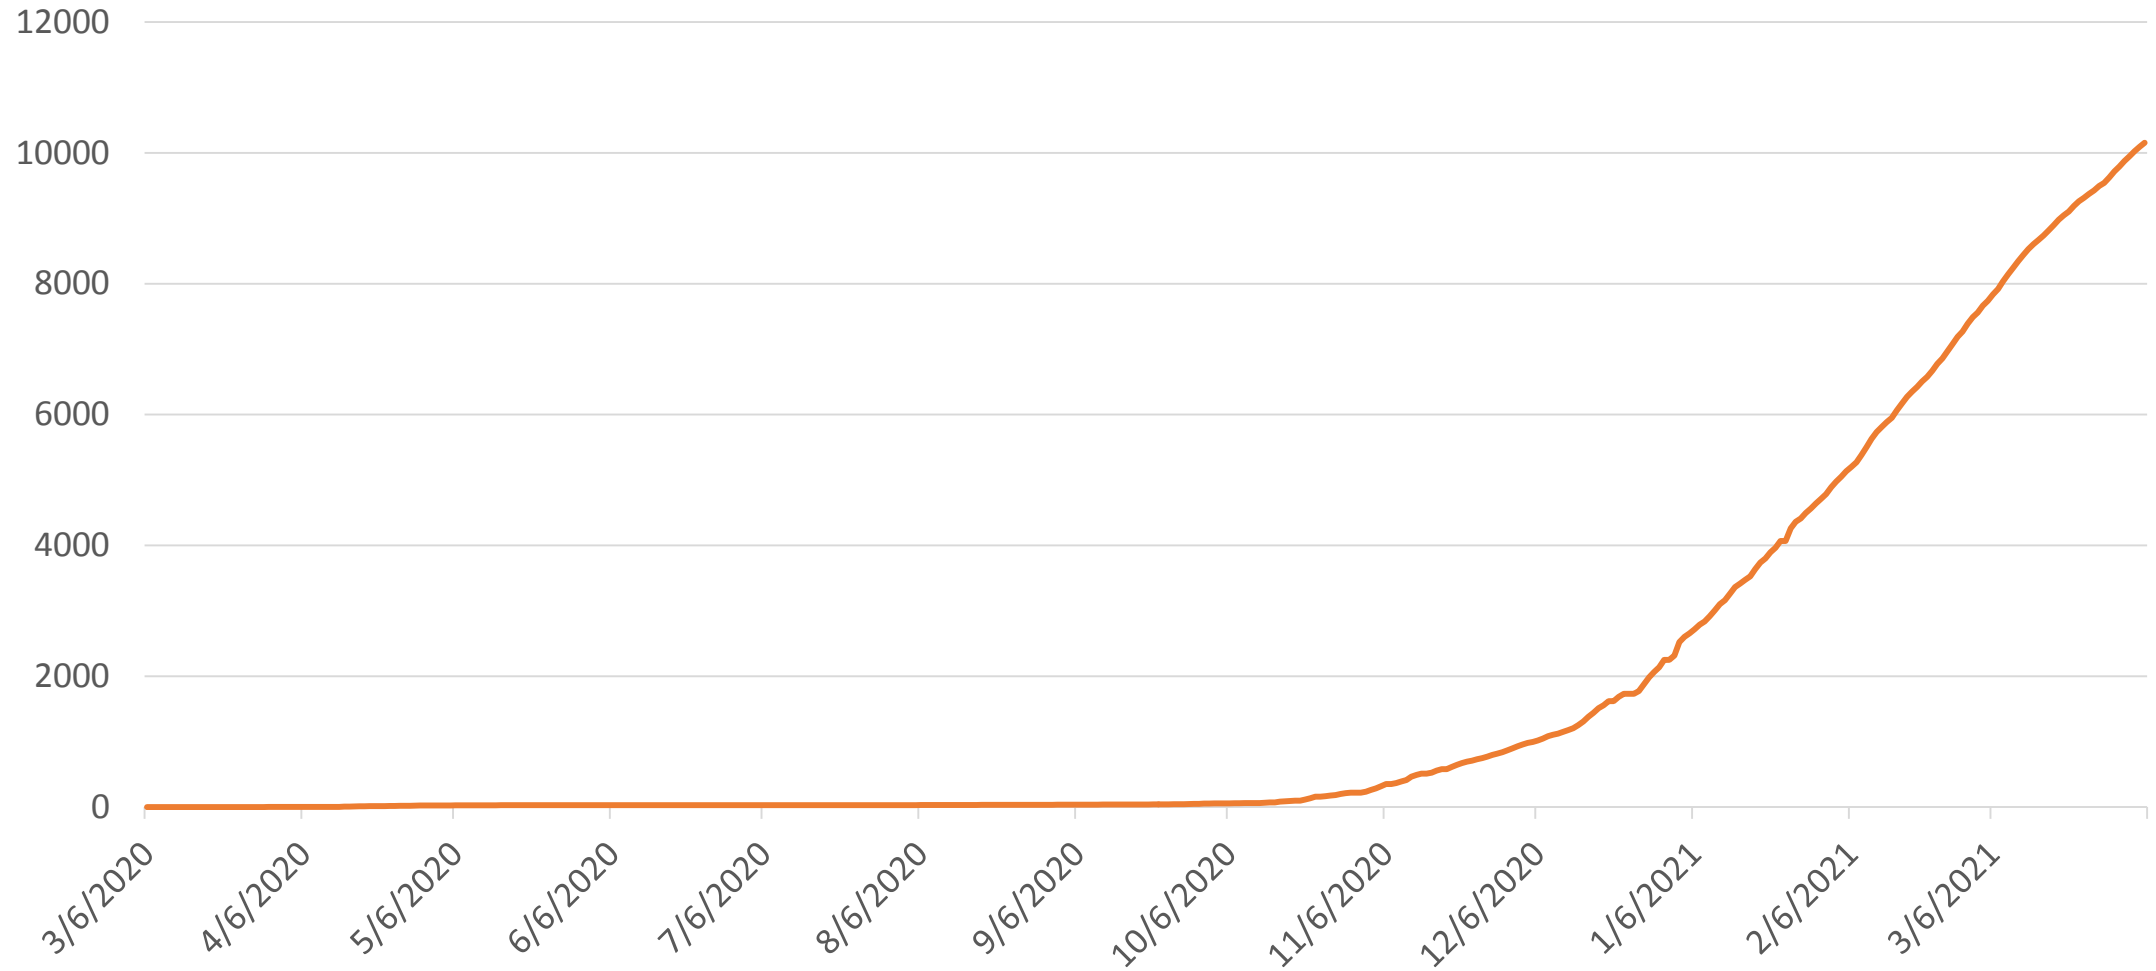

1st Wave of COVID-19 + Summer 2020

2nd Wave of COVID-19 – Cumulative Cases

2nd Wave of COVID-19 – Cumulative Deaths

Atomic Weapon against COVID-19

- Nationwide testing
- Strongly supported by Prime Minister
- 'The pass to freedom'

- Held on October 31 – November 1
 - More than 3.6 million people tested
 - One per cent positives

- Discrepancies over interpretation of its effects
- Further rounds of testing in selected regions

Rising conflicts in the government

- Prime Minister Matovič v. SaS leader Sulík
- Topics:
 - Level of restrictions
 - Nationwide testing
 - Antigen tests purchase
- Constant tensions between OLaNO and SaS
- Enhanced by public opinion development

Government Crisis in March 2021

- Escalation of previous development
 - Communication of PM – Facebook politics
 - Matovič v. Sulík
 - Atomic weapon v. reality
- Purchase of unauthorized Sputnik V vaccine as the trigger

Government Crisis in March 2021

- SaS and For the People demanded Matovič to resign
- Various firmness of such demands – SaS v. For the People
- A series of resignations of several members of the government
 - All ministers of SaS (including Sulík), one minister of For the People
 - One resignation from We are Family which remains a mystery
- Matovič facing risk of losing majority in parliament
- For the People facing risk of complete disintegration

Government Crisis in March 2021

- Main scenarios:
 - SaS leaves the government (80)
 - SaS and For the People leave the government (70)
- ‘Reconstruction’ of the government:
 - Matovič ends as PM and switches office with Ministry of Finance
 - SaS and For the People ministers return back to their offices
 - The resignation of the minister of We are Family still remains a mystery
- Improving COVID-19 statistics as a factor?

Dynamic Development in Opposition

- Voice – Social Democracy:
 - Splinter party from SMER-SD
 - Leader Peter Pellegrini
 - Support of 20-25 per cent of voters
 - Hidden strategy?
- SMER-SD:
 - Fico's unchallenged leadership
 - Sharp decline of support
 - New position of a small party

Referendum 2021?

- Referendum for early election
- Non-partisan initiative fully organized by political parties
 - SMER-SD, Voice, SNS
- Negative record of such referendums v. discontent in the society
 - COVID-19 restrictions
 - Economic impact of the pandemic
 - Death of previous Police President
- In April 2021 SMER-SD announced it gathered enough signatures
