Who would make decisions about the operation of the currency?  Would you allow everybody to use the currency, or exclude some groups?  Would it be backed by another currency or something of value? If so, which or what?  Would you include demurrage in the design?  Would you allow everybody to swap it back for the backing currency?  Would you charge a redemption fee?	You are members of the local chamber of commerce. Would you wish to have a new currency or are you satisfied that the existing currency serves your interests? If you want a new currency what would be its objectives? How would you decide about the following design features: Who would issue the currency?
