House of Habsburg

- 14th century => House of Habsburg establishes its power base
 - Friedrich III of Habsburg (Frederick V)
 - 1440: Elected German King + successor of Albert II
 - 1452: Crowned Holy Roman Emperor as Frederick III
 - Married Princess Eleonor of Portugal: Cemented his power
 - 1485: Tried to gain control over Hungary & Bohemia but failed
 - Ultimately prevailed by outliving his opponents + inheriting lands (gained Lower Austria from Ladislaus Posthumus, Upper Austria from brother Albert VI)

Happy Austria Shall Marry

- 1477: Friedrich III arranged the marriage of his son, Maximilian, to Mary of Burgundy in order to acquire additional land for the Habsburg Empire
 - ‘Let others wage wars, but you, happy Austria, shall marry’
- 1496: Double wedding
 - Maximilian’s children, Philip and Margaret of Austria, married the children of Ferdinand II & Isabella, Joan/Juana of Castile and Aragon + Don John/Juan, Prince of Asturias
 - Ensuring Habsburg interests in the regions held by Spain (also Italy, the Netherlands + N. America)

Charles V: Holy Roman Emperor

- Philip dies, Joan lost her mind- who will rule??
- Joan and Philip had six children
 - Sons Charles + Ferdinand became the founders of the two main lines of the dynasty the Austrian/imperial line and the Spanish line
- Charles' way to the top-
 - Duke of Burgundy (1515), ruled over the Netherland
 - King of Spain (1516)
 - King of Germany + Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire (1519)
- Eleonora, Isabella, Mary, Catharine, married off

Ottoman-Habsburg Wars

- 1520: Accession of Süleyman the Magnificent- Turkish pressure on Europe increased
 - 1521-1791: Ottoman- Habsburg Wars
- Spring of 1521: Martin Luther called to the imperial Diet at Worm
 - Charles drew up the Edict of Worms, essentially declaring war on Protestantism
- Charles delegated control over Austria, Bohemia + Hungary to his brother, Ferdinand I, now threatened by the Ottomans

Ottoman-Habsburg War

- Charles was fighting multiple fronts:
 - Emperor of Christendom, must fight off the Turks
 - Internal disputes + revolts by protestants (German princes)
 - Power struggles over hegemony in (western) Europe (against the French)
- 1532: a large army under Charles's personal command faced Süleyman's forces before the city of Vienna (The Siege of Vienna)
 - No battle took place
- 1542: The French declared war over Milan

Bye Bye Charles V

- Charles's finances were in a perpetually unsettled state (financing war at home + expanding Spanish colonies in the 'New World')
- 1552: Charles ratified an agreement between brother Ferdinand & protestant German princes => Protestant religion granted equal rights with Roman Catholicism
- 1554: Charles married his son, Phillip to Mary I of England (aka 'Bloody Mary')
 - The marriage did not result in Habsburg domination over England or military support for the Holy Roman Empire
 - No Habsburg heir to the English throne

Habsburgs: 17th Century

- 1555: Charles abdicated, 'gave' the Netherlands + Spain to Philip and the imperial crown to brother Ferdinand => Leadership of the Empire taken over by the Austrian Habsburgs (1558)
- Cooperation between imperial & Spanish Habsburgs in the 17th century failed to maintain the hegemony previously enjoyed

Imperial line:

- Habsburg Brothers Conflict
- Religious wars in central Europe => Defenestration of Prague => The Thirty Years War (1618-1648)

Habsburgs: 17th Century

Spanish line:

- 1621: Renewed conflict with the Dutch
- 1648: The Peace of Westphalia abolished Habsburg sovereignty over the northern Netherlands, restricted emperor's authority over German princes + transferred the Habsburg lands in Alsace to France
- 1659-1667: Short lived peace with France
- End of Habsburg European hegemony (Spanish line defeated by the French, Austrians preoccupied with own troubles), rise of the Bourbons
- No male heirs to Charles II of Spain => War of Spanish Succession (1701-1714)

Habsburgs: 18th Century

- 1711: Charles VI- Holy Roman Emperor + last male Habsburg
- To secure the indivisibility of his Habsburg inheritance, Charles:
 - Issued the Pragmatic Sanction (1713): Daughter Maria Theresa can inherit the Empire)
 - Married Maria Theresa to Francis I of Lorraine => Alliance meant to extend the Habsburg lineage
- Until then, no women had ever controlled Hapsburg land by herself
- Charles convinced many European families + rulers to recognize Maria Theresa's right to the throne after his death (1740)

War of Austrian Succession

- Prussian invasion of Silesia => War of the Austrian Succession (1740–1748)
 - Maria Theresa successfully retained control over most of her father's lands
- Maria Theresa was never crowned empress, became empress when husband Francis Stephen of Lorraine was recognized Holy Roman emperor ('Francis I', 1745)
 - Francis I was the official ruler, but Maria Theresa governed the Habsburg monarchy single-handedly
- House of Habsburg–Lorraine, the dynastic continuators of the 'original' Habsburgs

Maria Theresa

- Maria Theresa and husband, Francis I married to guarantee a balance of power within the spectrum of European politics+ love?
 - 10/16 children reached adulthood, among them two future emperors, an elector of Cologne and Marie Antoinette, future wife of King Louis XVI of France
- Maria Theresa carried out comprehensive state reforms (reformed the military, judiciary + education system, established a high court, standardized measurements and weights)
- Vienna got a facelift, the stock exchange + Burgtheater were built, Schönbrunn Palace transformed into a prestigious landmark

Maria Theresa

- The conservative Catholic ruler applied a strict zero tolerance policy
 - Protestants were persecuted and expelled
 - 20,000 Jews were expelled from Prague + other parts of Bohemia (1744)
- 1765: Joseph II became the Holy Roman Emperor after the death of Francis, a co-regent of the House of Habsburg
 - Difficult mother/son relations: Humanistic principles of Enlightenment vs. Hardcore Catholicism
- 1780: Maria Theresa died, yet unforgotten

The Habsburgs: 19th Century

- Late 18th early 19th centuries => Napoleon Bonaparte came to power, the Habsburgs faced a new enemy
 - Napoleon was married into the family- didn't stop his conquering spree
- 1806 => Francis II, hereditary emperor of Austria + Holy Roman Emperor forced to relinquish titles to Napoleon
 - Francis I, emperor of Austria after Napoleon's downfall
- The Congress of Vienna (1814-1815) returned lost territories to the Habsburgs after Napoleon's downfall
 - Next challenge: The awakening of nationalism in the empire

The Austrian Empire

16

- Monarchical conservatism, eroded by the forces of nationalism

The Age of Metternich (1815-1848) =>

- Fighting to preserve the status quo in an ever-changing reality (social, economic, etc.)

Resistance to Change

Austrian emperor + Foreign Minister Metternich tried to maintain the power of the monarchy

- Prohibited reforms that conflicted with absolute monarchy + ensorship
- Formed alliances with other European powers to prevent nationalist revolutions
- Created secret police to spy on students suspected of revolutionary activities

Revolutions 1848-1859

17

- Metternich was able to sustain the Austrian Empire for a few years. However, events in Europe eventually caught up with him (growing unrest in Europe)
- Revolutions in the Habsburg monarchy: social, democratic-liberal, national
 - Hungarians, Italians, Slavic people, Germans
- March 1848: Vienna Uprising, clashes between demonstrators and the army in the streets of Vienna
 - Metternich fired
 - Emperor promises to issue a constitution (in Hungary)

Neo-Absolutism 1849-1860

18

- Ferdinand abdicated the throne, was succeeded by his nephew Francis/Franz Josef I (1848-1916)
 - Heavily influenced by Metternich + wife the duchess Elizabeth of Bavaria (Sissi)
- With Alexander von Bach (minister of the interior) order was 'restored' (police state) => Further rebellions
 - Franz Josef stopped liberal reforms, but could not eradicate nationalism, ruled over an unstable empire
- A series of ill-fated wars shook Austria's military reputation + financially drained it
 - Austria separated from Germany following the war against Prussia (Bismark)

The Dual Monarchy

19

The 'Ausgleich': Imperial & royal Dual Monarchy (1867)

- Austria and Hungary became two separate, equal states under Franz Josef I => Emperor of Austria, king of Hungary
- The Monarch's common government shared responsibility for the army, navy, foreign policy + customs union

- Only benefiting the Hungarians internal restless continues
- The Dual Monarchy lasted until 1918 (a

- 1878: Austro Hungary occupied Bosnia & Herzegovina, formally annexed in 1908
- 1914: Visiting Sarajevo, archduke Franz Ferdinand killed by a nationalist Serb, prompting the World War I

The Fall of the Habsburgs

- Gradual lost of territory + political power in the 19th century
 - Lost Italy (1859), Germany (1866) ...
 - Still controlled Austro-Hungary, but as a Dual Monarchy
- Faced problems of self determination during that time
- Heir to the throne, Franz Ferdinand, assassinated in Sarajevo in 1914 => Charles (I) emperor of Austria (1916-1918), the last ruler of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy
- Dismemberment of the Habsburg Empire (1918)
- Post WWI: The Republic of Austria was established
 - Habsburg descendants were able to retain their traditional titles, but not to rule

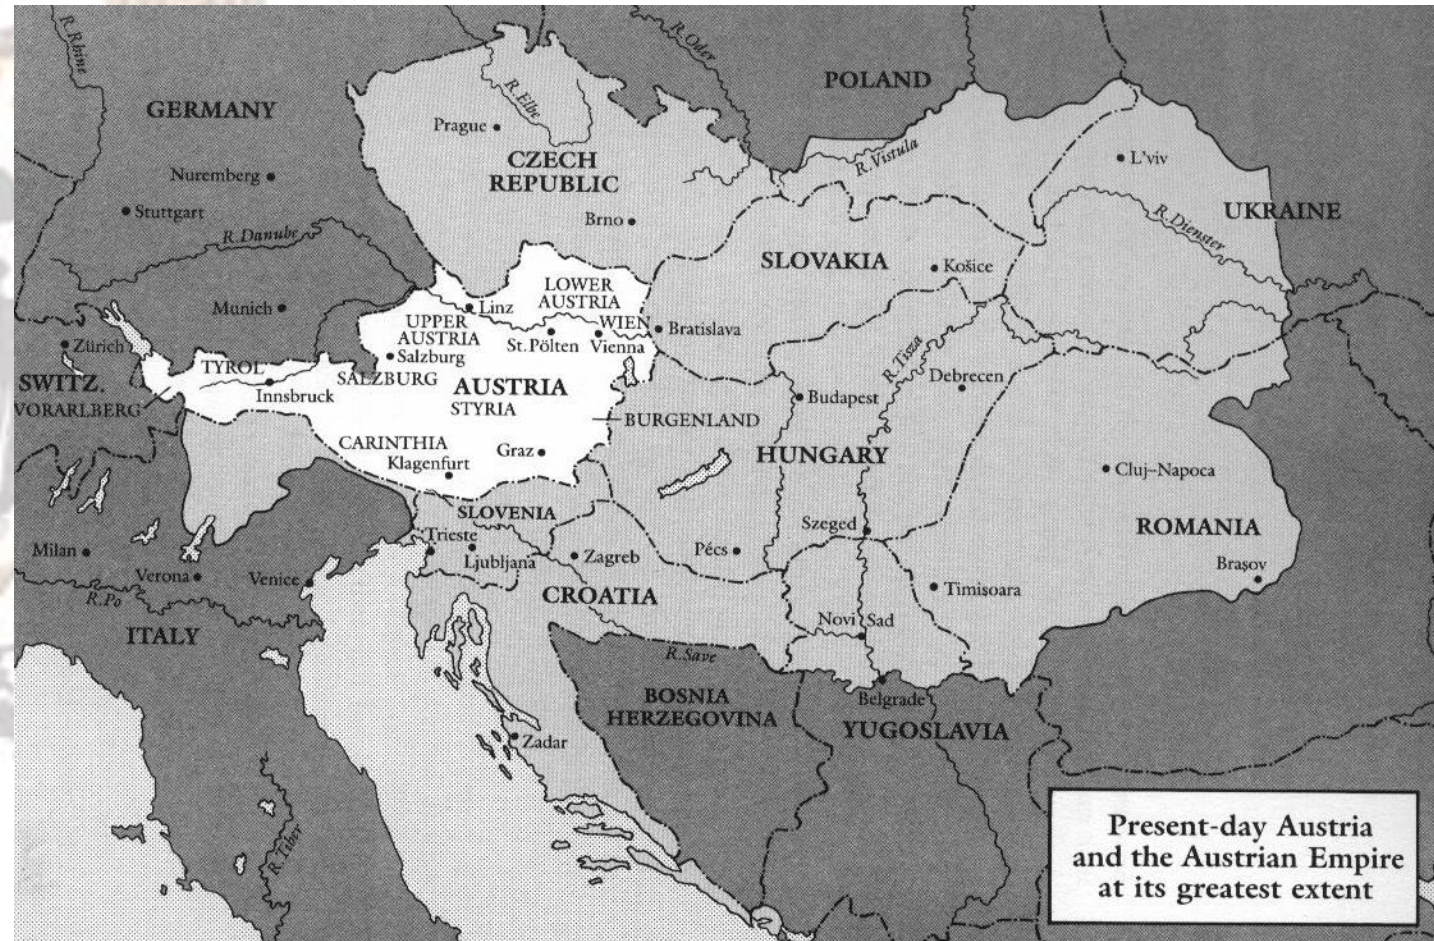

Reflection on Austria's Past Glory

- Austria was often a part of larger political units

- Holy Roman Empire
- German Confederation
- Austrian Empire
- Austro-Hungarian Empire
- European Union

- Independent since 1955
