

The regulation of civil society provides the framework under which those organisations can most effectively provide services in education, health, social services, housing, development aid and so on. Civil Society in Europe identifies common principles of civil society law in two ways. First, the approaches of the Council of Europe and the European Union are explored. Next civil society regulation in twelve domestic legal systems is investigated on a broad range of substantive areas of law, including internal organisation, registration, external supervision, public benefit organisations and international activities. From these, the authors distill a set of minimum norms and optimal conditions under which civil society can deliver its aims most effectively. This book is essential reading for policymakers and legislators across Europe and beyond.

Tymen J. van der Ploeg was Professor of Law at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, from 1992 until 2012. His research focuses on the relations of non-governmental organisations with governments from a national and comparative perspective.

Wino J. M. van Veen is Professor of Law at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam where he teaches law on partnerships, corporate law and law on non-profit organisations. His research areas include European law, corporate law, partnership law and comparative non-profit law, with a special interest in self-regulation.

Cornelia R. M. Versteegh currently teaches at the Universiteit van Amsterdam. She has previously been a solicitor and a part-time judge at the Civil Court of Amsterdam. Her research focuses inter alia on European civil society law, European human rights law, European equality law, asylum and migration law and terrorism.

Cover image: European flags at the Council of Europe Building © Buena Vista Images/Getty Images

van der Ploeg, van Veen
and Versteegh

Civil Society in Europe

Civil Society in Europe

Minimum Norms and Optimum Conditions of its Regulation

Tymen J. van der Ploeg, Wino J. M. van Veen and Cornelia R. M. Versteegh

CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS
www.cambridge.org

ISBN 978-1-107-14608-2