

Try to identify errors in the following examples:

1. This type of toothbrush is much more better than the previous one.
2. I would like to present you the results of my research.
3. My purpose is to say you something about the causes of the disease.
4. Some people go to bed and fall asleep with lights.
5. I have readen somewhere that this type of cancer is curable.
6. His mother learnt him how to overcome his anxiety.
7. There is another type of phobia – fear of speaking before people.
8. There were several death people in the accident.
9. She did not repeat her knowledge before the exam, and so she failed.
10. During the mock car crash, we practised first aid techniques on figures.
11. They tried to learnt how to provide first aid.
12. On the first picture you can see complete obstruction of the coronary artery.
13. There is necessary to say that this technique is not adequate.
14. So, in my presentation I have spoke about the following points....
15. If you realize that you have to relax more often, your life will be much more happier.