

Making hospital beds (1) unoccupied bed

Hospital bed

- Hospitalized patient spends long hours in bed, comfort depends largely upon the hospital bed and frequent changes in position if the patient's condition permits
- Hospital bed is constructed to provide several possible positions and maximum safety for patient.
- They have a hinged frame (called the GATCH) that permits adjustments of the head and foot section.

Making hospital beds

- The linens must remain taut and free of wrinkles even if the patient is restless and moving about in bed. Specific techniques for making a hospital bed help to keep bed linens in position and maintain tautness.

The unoccupied bed

- The procedure for making an unoccupied bed is used when there is no patient in bed

Making an unoccupied bed process (1)

this bed is after disinfection

Making an unoccupied bed process (2)

equipment for the making bed
(plastic bag is for soiled bed linen, you can use hamper too)

Making an unoccupied bed process (3)

before making bed you have to take away the pilow and blanket

Making an unoccupied bed process (4)

- bed sheet arrangement,
- work from the head of the bed toward to foot

Making an unoccupied bed process (5)

bed sheet arrangement, you have to fixate sheet with knots

Making an unoccupied bed process (6)

- Pull the bottom sheet taut and tuck sheet under the mattress snugly

Making an unoccupied bed process (7)

- Plastic draw sheet we need by patient with incontinency

Nowadays we prefer paper sheet for single use,
it is more comfortable for patient

Making an unoccupied bed process (8)

cotton draw sheet is lying across the bed

Making an unoccupied bed process (9)

blanket dressing

Making an unoccupied bed process (10)

➤ blanket arrangement

Making an unoccupied bed process (11)

Pull the blanket taut and tuck under the mattress in the lower part of bed

Making an unoccupied bed process (12)

pillow dressing

Making an unoccupied bed process (13)

Place pillow at head of the bed on top of the covers

You can use the pillow for the finish bed arrangement

Making an unoccupied bed process (14)

the closed bed

the open bed

- patient is going back in the bed

