Accusative: theory

- accusative = special form to express direct object (= person or thing to whom or which an action is done)
- necessity of different ending in masculine animates and feminines (because of czech language word order)
- word order

known / unimportant information

new / important information

sentence

Accusative singular: forms

The only forms that are declined (=change their forms when used in accusative = expressing object function) are:

- MASCULINE ANIMATES (people or animals of masculine gender)
 - To je mladý a inteligentní Martin Punčochář (nominativ)
> Vidím mladého a inteligentního Martina Punčocháře (accusative)
- FEMININES (all)
 - To je mladá a inteligentní Anna Marie.
> Vidím mladou a inteligentní Annu Marii.
