

REGRESSIVE ASSIMILATION

1. Place of articulation

- alveolar consonant ← non-alveolar C
 /t,d,n/ /p,b,m,k,g/
 ↓
 non-alveolar C

/t/	that person,	that bag,	that man
↓
/p/	/ðæp p3:sn/	/ðæp bæg/	/ðæp mæn/

/d/	good person,	good bye,	good man
/b/	/gʊb p3:sn/	/gʊb baI/	/gʊb mæn/

/n/	ten people,	ten bags,	ten minutes
↓
/m/	/tem pi:pł/	/tem bægz/	/tem mInIts/

/t/	that colour,	that garden
↓
/k/	/ðæk kʌlə/	/ðæk ga:dən/

/d/	good girl,	red colour
↓
/g/	/gʊg g3:ł/	/reg kʌlə/

/n/	in case,	ten couples,	ten girls
↓
/ŋ/	/ɪŋ keɪs/	/terŋ kʌplz/	/teŋ g3:łz/

- alveolar C ← non-alveolar C
 /s,z/ /j, ſ/ } assibilation
 non-alveolar C

/s/	this year,	this ship,	this young man
↓
/ʃ/	/ðɪʃ j3:/	/ðɪʃ ſɪp/	/ðɪʃ jʌŋ mæn/

/z/ those years, those ships, as you know

/ʒ/ /ðəʊʒ ʒɜ:z/ /ðəʊʒ ʃɪps/ /əʒ ju əʊ/

o alveolar C ← non-alveolar C /t,d/ /j/↓ } affrication
non-alveolar C

/t/ don't you, won't you

/tʃ/ /dəʊntʃ ju/ /wəʊntʃ ju/

/d/ would you, could you

/dʒ/ /wʊdʒ ju/ /kʊdʒ ju/

Examples in Czech:

pan král /paŋ kra:l/ sedni si /sed'ni si/ hanba /hamba/

2. Manner of articulation

o plosive C ← nasal C
nasal C

/d/ good night

/n/ /gʊn naɪt/

o plosive C ← fricative C
fricative C

/t/ that side

/s/ /ðæs saɪd/

Examples in Czech:

dětský /d'ěcki:/ bohatství /bohactví:/ kanadský /kanackí:/

3. Assimilation of voice (only regressive!)

C lenis=voiced ← C fortis=voiceless

no voicing (eg. lead through the crowd, of course, etc)

!!! if C1=fortis + C2 =lenis --> C1 remains VOICELESS!!!

Unlike in many other languages, assimilation of voice in English NEVER takes place in this case:

eg. I like that black dog.

/aɪ laɪk ðæt blæk dɒg/ not */aɪ laɪg ðæd blæg dɒg/

Examples in Czech:

svědek byl /svjedeg bil/ kdo /gdo/ kresba /krezba/ trubka /trupka/ led /let/
