

Teaching grammar

- Children are not interested in long explanations.
- Teenagers?
- Adults need explanation

Presenting new grammar

- contextualized examples
- Visual and listening materials
- simple generalization is better than a detailed explanation.
- pupils may reveal the rule themselves

- include both form and meaning
- both oral and written forms

Training grammar

- find correct examples in the text
- produce good examples themselves.
- we cannot avoid drill
- mistakes bring useful feedback

- Dangling = nejistý
- Atrocious = příšerný, hnusný, děsný