

What is didactics?

- basic pedagogical discipline focused on the analysis and explanation of the learning and teaching processes
- theory of learning and teaching
- relationship teacher - pupils

The historic meaning of the didactics

- the art of teaching
- learning
- wide content (nowadays content of pedagogy) – not only how to teach (methods, strategies, aims), but also other aspects – management, theory of school

Traditional didactics

- normative and abstract
- to make system in didactical categories
- only say how something should be

Modern didactics

- Neutral description of situation
- Accent on the scientific description, analysis and explanation
- Educational research

Modern didactics

- it stands on educational research
- The concept of „Didactica viva“ support Modern didactics

Didactica viva

- It is environment for the communication and education of teachers
- the aim is critic of the traditional didactics
- It is trying to react on new knowledge from the psychological and pedagogical disciplines
- It is trying to support professional development of teachers

Didactica viva

- To be a didactic over and inter
- To respect curriculum
- To connect theory and practice on the basis of educational research
- Try to invite teachers into research