

IX VERBS, VERB TENSES, IMPERATIVES

Use the simple past or the past progressive in the following.

- 1 I am sitting in class right now. I (sit) was sitting in class at this exact same time yesterday.
- 2 I don't want to go to the zoo today because it is raining. The same thing happened yesterday. I (want, not) didn't want to go to the zoo because it (rain) was raining.
- 3 I (call) called Roger at nine last night, but he (be, not) wasn't at home. He (study) was studying at the library.
- 4 I (hear, not) didn't hear the thunder during the storm last night because I (sleep) was sleeping.
- 5 It was beautiful yesterday when we went for a walk in the park. The sun (shine) was shining. A cool breeze (blow) was blowing. The birds (sing) were singing.
- 6 My brother and sister (argue) were arguing about something when I (walk) walked into the room.
- 7 I got a package in the mail. When I (open) opened it, I (find) found a surprise.
- 8 Tommy went to his friends' house, but the boys (be, not) were not there. They (play) were playing soccer in the vacant lot down the street.
- 9 Stanley (climb) was climbing the stairs when he (trip) tripped and (fall) fell. Luckily, he (hurt, not) didn't hurt himself.
- 10 While Mrs. Emerson (read) was reading the little boy a story, he (fall) fell asleep, so she (close) closed the book and quietly (tiptoe) tiptoed out of the room.
- 11 I really enjoyed my vacation last January. While it (snow) was snowing in Iowa, the sun (shine) was shining in Florida. While you (shovel) were shovelling snow in Iowa, I (lie) was lying on the beach in Florida.
- 12 While Ted (shovel) was shovelling snow from his driveway yesterday, his wife (bring) brought him a cup of hot chocolate.

Use the simple past or the present perfect. In some sentences, either tense is possible but the meaning is different.

- 1 I (attend, not) haven't attended any parties since I came here.
- 2 Peter (go) went to a party at Sally's apartment last Saturday night.
- 3 Bill (arrive) arrived here three days ago.
- 4 Bill (be) has been here since the 22nd.
- 5 Try not to be absent from class again for the rest of the term. You (miss, already) have already missed too many classes. You (miss) missed two classes just last week.
- 6 Last January, I saw snow for the first time in my life.
- 7 In her whole lifetime, Anna (see, never) has never seen/never saw snow.
- 8 I (know) have known Greg Adams for ten years.
- 9 So far this week, I (have) have had two tests and a quiz.
- 10 Up to now Professor Williams (give) has given our class five tests.

Use the right tenses.

- 1 My grandfather (fly, never) has never flown in an airplane, and he has no intention of ever doing so.
- 2 Jane is not here yet. I (wait) have been waiting for her since noon, but she still (arrive, not) hasn't arrived.
- 3 In all the world, there (be) are only 14 mountains that (reach) reach above 8,000 meters.

4 I have a long trip ahead of me tomorrow, so I think I'd better go to bed. But let me say good-bye now because I won't see you in the morning. I (leave, already) will have left already by the time you (get) get up.

5 Right now we (have) have had a heat wave. The temperature (be) has been in the upper 90s for the last six days.

6 Last night I (go) went to a party. When I (get) got there, the room was full of people. Some of them (dance) were dancing and others (talk) were talking. One young woman (stand) was standing by herself. I (meet, never) had never met her, so I (introduce) introduced myself to her.

7 About three yesterday afternoon, Jessica (lie) was lying in bed reading a book. Suddenly she (hear) heard a loud noise and (get) got up to see what it was. She (look) looked out of the window. A truck (back, just) had just backed into her new car!

8 Next month I have a week's vacation. I (plan) am planning to take a trip. First, I (go) am going to Madison, Wisconsin, to visit my brother. After I (leave) leave Madison, I (go) am going to Chicago to see a friend who (study) is studying at a university there. She (live) has lived in Chicago for three years, so she (know) knows her way around the city. She (promise) has promised to take me to many interesting places. I (be, never) have never been to Chicago, so I (look) look forward to going there.

9 Yesterday while I (sit) was sitting in class, I (get) got the hiccups. The person who (sit) was sitting next to me told me to hold my breath. I (try) tried that, but it didn't work. The instructor (lecture) was lecturing, and I didn't want to interrupt him, so I just sat there trying to hiccup quietly. Finally, after I (hiccup) had hiccupped/had been hiccupping for almost five minutes, I (rise) rose my hand and (excuse) excused myself from the class to go get a drink of water.

10 The weather has been terrible lately. It (rain) has rained off and on for two days, and the temperature (drop) has dropped at least twenty degrees. It (be) is in the low 40s right now. Just three days ago, the sun (shine) was shining and the weather was pleasant. The weather certainly (change) changes quickly here. I never know what to expect. Who knows? When I (wake) wake up tomorrow morning, maybe it (snow) will be snowing.

Match the sentences with the functions given below.

- | | |
|--|----------------------------------|
| 1 We'll have a thunderstorm tonight. I'm sure. d) | a) making a formal announcement |
| 2 Will there be a general strike? f) | b) making a request |
| 3 I'll send you a card from Florida. g) | c) stating a planned arrangement |
| 4 Will you write to me? b) | d) making a prediction |
| 5 Shall I go to the post office for you? k) | e) making an invitation |
| 6 Shall we take a drive into the country later? l) | f) asking for a prediction |
| 7 I'll report you to the police next time. j) | g) promising/stating intention |
| 8 The wedding will take place next Friday. a) | h) expressing future hope |
| 9 I hope you'll come and see us again. h) | i) expressing future uncertainty |
| 10 Tell them again. Perhaps they'll understand. i) | j) threatening |
| 11 Will you have lunch with us on Sunday? e) | k) offering |
| 12 I'll be seeing John at the meeting tomorrow. c) | l) making a suggestion |

Put in the simple future, the future progressive or the future perfect simple.

- Suggested answers

By the middle of the 21st century we (build) will have built space stations which (circle) will circle the earth and (probably circle) will probably circle the moon, too. We (establish) will have established bases on planets like Mars. At present, we use radar to "watch" nearly 8,000 objects in space. In addition, there are at least 30,000 bits of rubbish from the size of marbles to the size of basket balls flying round the earth. These (increase) will have increased in number by the year 2050 and (orbit) will be orbiting the earth. All these bits and pieces are watched by NORAD (North American Radar Defence Command). NORAD (have) will have more and more rubbish to watch as the years go by. Some bits fall back to earth, like the Russian satellite C954, which crashed in the Northern Territories of Canada in 1978. Crashing junk could give us a bad headache. Most of the stuff (stay) will stay up there (we hope)! The sad fact is that we who are alive today (not clear up) will not be clearing up our own junk tomorrow. Perhaps we (just watch) will just be watching from some other (safe) place as it goes round and round the earth!

Put in the missing imperatives. ask, avoid, come and ask, do, keep, mind, think!, don't waste

It's a case of DO AS YOU'RE TOLD in our company! I work a small firm and my boss is so bossy that we all call him "napoleon". He doesn't mind a bit. Wherever you look in our building there's a notice of some kind. The first thing you see when you arrive is KEEP OFF THE GRASS! You come into the building and see MIND THE STEPS! The walls are covered with advice. IF IN DOUBT ASK ME! AVOID MAKING MISTAKES! COME AND ASK ME FIRST! DON'T WASTE TIME! We have learnt to ignore this advice, but lately notices have begun to appear in every part of the building. We have a small kitchen at the back where we make coffee. Yesterday there was a new notice over the kitchen sink, it said: THINK! I was pleased to see it wasn't long before someone added another notice under it which said THOAP!