When daffodils begin to peer,
With heigh! the doxy, over the dale,
Why, then comes in the sweet o' the year;
For the red blood reigns in the winter's pale.

Hey Bunny, you are my little Easter baby...

Oh man, this sucks. I have this running nose and keep like sniffing and sneezing! I have this like allergy. And the doc is a real weirdo. He's nuts! I Hate spring. It's only March now! Weeks to go. Oh man...

Spring is beautiful, but it's also a key time of year for seasonal allergies. As plants release pollen, millions of people with hay fever start to sniffle and sneeze. There's no cure but you can take steps to curb springtime allergies, from medication to household habits.

The spring season associated with the vernal equinox, called astronomical spring, takes place around March 20 in the Northern Hemisphere, however meteorologists recognize March 1 as the first day of meteorological spring, which is based on annual temperature cycles and the Gregorian calendar. Leap years and the elliptical shape of that orbit around the sun affect when the astronomical seasons, or summer/winter solstices and vernal/autumnal equinoxes, occur.

Select the best option and use it in the correct form:

assist • clarify • converse • extract • incline • sustain

1. The lecturer tried to explain her point more clearly by using another example more familiar to her students.
2. By the age of three, most children are able to talk with an adult in a limited fashion.
3. Because of unhappy childhood experiences, he is likely to believe that most people are basically very selfish.
4. During examinations, students are not allowed to talk to or to help other students in any way.
5. Students should not read every page of a book but instead identify and then take out only those ideas which are relevant.
6. Some students will stay up all night to finish their work, but it is impossible to keep this for very long and so it is not recommended.
