

One of my favourite series is “Dark”. As we can read at Netflix website, it is something between criminal and science fiction. In my opinion, it is also similar to post-apocalyptic. It was really popular among people in my age, but it is good for everyone, who likes this genre of series. “Dark” was made for people’s entertainment, because probably we cannot think about any educational purpose.

I really like this series, because the theme is interesting. “Dark” is about travelling in time, but with really bad consequences. It shows how past affects on present and future, and that human is powerless when he tries to fight with time. Moreover, it is well made show, because the ‘friction’ was prepared really professional, every motive was connected to another ones. But the problem was that there were too many motives and sometimes it was hard to understand and remember everything.

I watched just first season and this one I watched during two nights, because it was amazing! Ending was opened and I could not wait for second season. I was waiting about one year and when it finally arrived I was not excited anymore. Everyone was watching the first season again to remind everything and understand the plot. I did not enough time to do that, so I started the second season and did not finish. I did not understand anything and watching the previous season was like waste of time. I really regret that I did not wait for end of series to watch everything for one time.
