

- Conditionals: zero, first, second, third, mixed, inverted / unless, in case, as/so long as, provided (that)

Zero conditional

Form if + present simple, present simple

Use	Example
General or scientific facts and definitions	If you have faith in something, you believe in something you cannot prove.

First conditional

Form if + a present tense, will + bare infinitive

Use	Example
Real or likely conditions in the present or future and their results in the present and future	If you have a birthday party, you'll get loads of cool presents!
	If you're working till half past six, we'll have dinner at about eight.
	If you have revised properly, you won't have any problems in the test next week.

Watch out!

- We can also use may, might, can, could, shall, should, ought to, have to instead of will, depending on the meaning.
 - ✓ If you have a birthday party, you might get loads of cool presents!
- We can also use should + bare infinitive instead of present simple. This suggests the situation is possible, but unlikely to happen.
 - ✓ If you should bump into Alex at the concert, you'll be able to get a lift home.
- We can also use a form of the first conditional to give instructions about real or likely situations in the present or future. This is: if + a present tense, imperative.
 - ✓ If you decide to have a birthday party, tell me!

unless, in case, as/so long as, provided (that)

Word or Phrase	Meaning	Example
unless	'except if' or 'if...not'	I'll be there at six unless I get delayed. (= except if I get delayed / if I don't get delayed)
in case	'because he/she/it/etc might'	Let's take our wellies in case it's muddy. (= because it might be muddy)
as/so long as	'if' or 'only if'	As long as I'm happy, my parents don't care what job I do. So long as I'm happy, my parents don't care what job I do.
provided (that)	'if' or 'only if'	Provided (that) I'm happy, my parents don't care what job I do.

Second conditional

Form if + past simple or past continuous, would + bare infinitive

Use	Example
Impossible, unlikely or hypothetical conditions in the present or future and their results in the present or future	If you had a beard, you would look just like Charles Dickens! If you were flying to Rio, would you get there much quicker?
Advice	If I were you, I would think very carefully about my future. (more formal) If I was you, I'd have a party at the weekend! (more informal)

Watch out!

- We can also use might or could instead of would, depending on the meaning. (Note: could here often means would be able to.)
 - ✓ If we were older, we could go on holiday on our own.
- We can also use could in the if clause. Here, it means was/were able to.
 - ✓ If I could drive, I'd buy a car.

Third conditional

Form if + past perfect (simple or continuous), would + have + past participle

Use	Example
Hypothetical conditions in the past and their results in the past	If you had worn a fake beard, no one would have known who you were! (= You didn't wear a fake beard so people knew who you were.) If she'd been wearing her new glasses, I would have noticed them. (= She wasn't wearing her new glasses so I didn't notice them.)

Watch out!

- We can also use might, could or should instead of would, depending on the meaning.
✓ If I had done some revision, I might / could / should have passed the exam.

Mixed conditionals

Form if + past perfect (simple or continuous), would + bare infinitive

Use	Example
Hypothetical past condition and a present result	If I had listened to my parents, I wouldn't be in so much trouble now. (= I didn't listen to my parents so I'm in lots of trouble now.)

Form if + past simple or past continuous, would + have + past participle

Use	Example
Hypothetical present condition and a past result	If I had a mobile, I would have called you last night. (= I don't have a mobile so I didn't call you last night.)

Inverted conditionals

Form Should I/you/he/etc ... instead of If I/you/he/etc should ...
Were I/you/he/etc ... instead of If I/you/he/etc were ...
Had I/you/he/etc ... instead of If I/you/he/etc had ...

Use	Example
More formal form of the first conditional (with should)	Should the situation worsen, the United Nations is prepared to send in a peacekeeping force. (= If the situation should worsen...)
More formal form of the second conditional	Were the situation to worsen, the United Nations would be prepared to send in a peacekeeping force. (= If the situation were to worsen...)
More formal form of the third conditional	Had the situation worsened, the United Nations would have been prepared to send in a peacekeeping force. (= If the situation had worsened...)

Watch out!

- For all conditional sentences (first, second, third, mixed, inverted), when the condition comes before the result it is usually followed by a comma. When the result comes first, no comma is necessary.
✓ If I had a mobile, I would have called you last night.
✓ I would have called you last night if I had a mobile.
- In conditional sentences, modals (will, would, could, etc) are sometimes followed by a continuous infinitive.
✓ We'd still be waiting if you hadn't turned up.

US vs UK Grammar

- With second and third conditionals in informal conversation, speakers of American English sometimes use would or would have in the if clause. This is very unusual in British English.
US: How would you feel if this happened / would happen to you?
UK: How would you feel if this happened to you?
US: I would have felt awful if that had happened / would have happened to me.
UK: I would have felt awful if that had happened to me.

F Read the text and complete the sentences using the third conditional.

Some scientists, such as Stephen Hawking, believe it's possible that there are billions and billions of universes. Each universe has a different possible consequence for every action. In the universe we live in, for example, George Bush became President of the USA in January 2001, and Greece won the European Cup in July 2004. But in other universes different things happened. Imagine if that's true! In some universes, your parents didn't meet, so you weren't born. In another universe, a meteor didn't strike the Earth, so the dinosaurs didn't become extinct. In a different universe, your best friend won the lottery last summer and moved to a bigger house. In another parallel universe, you started learning English a year earlier, so you did this book last year! Somewhere else, Madonna wasn't discovered, and so didn't make any records. In another universe, Van Gogh was recognised as a great painter during his lifetime, and so didn't die in poverty. And perhaps in several universes, there were enough lifeboats on the Titanic and so everyone on board survived. It makes you think, doesn't it?

- 1 If I'd started learning English a year earlier,
- 2 If a meteor hadn't struck the Earth,
- 3 If my best friend had won the lottery last summer,
- 4 If my parents
- 5 Everyone on board the Titanic
- 6 Van Gogh
- 7 Madonna
- 8 If George Bush
- 9 If Greece

G Choose the correct answer.

If this theory about parallel universes (1) correct, it (2) that we're living in more than one universe at the same time. But if that (3) true – if I was doing different things in different universes – (4) about it. And if I (5) about it, how could it be me doing these things? If I (6) the lottery last year in a parallel universe, and decided to sail round the world, how is that 'me'? It doesn't make sense!

And another thing. If I do something, it (7) consequences. For example, if I (8) study, I might not pass my exams. I can't start thinking about different universes where the consequences are different. If I just (9) about the universe I actually live in, then I'm sure (10) okay!

J If a line is correct, put a tick (✓) next to the number. If there is an extra word in a line, write it next to the number.

Being an only child

- 1 I'm an only child. People often say to me: 'Wouldn't you be a lot
2 happier if you have had brothers and sisters?' but I don't see it like that.
3 It's true that if I had had a brother or sister, I would have someone closer
4 to my own age to talk to and play with at home, but I don't think that's 5 very important provided for you have close friends, which I do. If my
6 parents would had more children, they wouldn't be able to spend so much
7 time with me. And we have great fun together! Also, except if I had a
8 brother or sister, I'd have it to share a bedroom with them. That might be 9 fun, but what would happen if I wanted to play my CDs and he or she had 10 to study? No – I don't want a brother or sister, unless it will happens, of course. In that case, I'll think it's the best thing in the world!
