Co je hlavním sdělením/argumentem článku?

Jak argumentuje? Na co poukazuje?

- Čas slouží jako nástroj k diferenciaci/třídění migrantů na nově příchozí a ty, co tam žijí již delší dobu – to ovlivňuje dále jejich podmínky participování (nejen) na pracovním trhu a celkového života
- Konkrétní koncepce času a zacházení s ním slouží jako nástroj prekarizace migrujících
- „In this article, we claim that deceleration, acceleration and new temporalities are to be seen as instruments of governing that interact with modes of subjectivation (p.148).“
- Immigrants and refugees embody the temporal norms of governing institution

Jakými koncepty argument podpoří? K čemu slouží?

Jakými koncepty argument podpoří? K čemu slouží?

- Governmental precarization
- Deceleration
- Acceleration
- Figuration
- Timescape

What does the temporality do?
What types of temporalities can be identified in the study?

What does the temporality do?

- Divides migrants into categories based on the lengths of their stay
→ consequently creates possibilities for further participation in society
- Types of time – institutional time vs. lived time
- Time has become a field of struggle between governing and governed (via acceleration and deceleration) → waiting subjects
- Migrants discipline themselves and adapt to the temporalities of the institutions

What does the temporality do?

- Precarization is associated with deceleration
- Gendered temporalities – different cultural norms and temporalities
- Settlement programme governs new migrants in a temporal sense.
- BUT! „Different figurations and temporal understandings should not be „essentialized“, but the temporalities of migrants are changing with the displacement and exil process (p.157)“.
